ELEXIR GODINEAU

THE WORLD'S GREATEST TONIC.
Sensational Review by the Press in France

LE TEMPS.

The ELIXIR GODINEAU is now, constantly talked off by the press, it is the constant subject of their articles and the talk of town and country: it is a first class strengthening and restoring tonic of miraculous power.

L'AUTORITE.

The marvellous properties of the ELIXIR GODINEAU having been duly proved by various experiments, this powerful specific is now universally recommended as the best remedy against anaemia, tuberculosis and all cases of exhaustion of the organic system in general.

LE FIGARO.

To make gold, and find out the secret of ever lasting youth; such were the two problems which alchemists had tried to solve. The progress of science has shown the uselessness of the first, but it facilitated on the other hand, the working out of the second.

Following out the eminent professor's theories a Paris Chemist of high standing with the assistance of eminent practitioners has prepared the Elixir bearing his name the ELIXIR GODINEAU the effects of which are surprising.

LE MOT D'ORDRE.

Several truly marvellous cures effected by the ELIXIR GODINEAU and which have been echoed far and wide, have given this specific universal popularity. Henceforth anaemia, rachitis, paralysis, senile degeneration will cease to exist. The ELIXIR GODINEAU rapidly, suppresses all these affections produced by partial or general exhaustion of the organic system.

L'EVENMENT.

The fairy tale of the fountain of youth is now a true and real fact; old age still scatters a few wrinkles on the face, a few snowy flakes in the hair, but it can no longer chill the hearts of men to whom the high mettled spiritness of a youth of twenty years of age, is restored by the ELIXIR GODINEAU, one of the valuable conquests of modern science.

L'ECHO DE PARIS

The great success of the ELIXIR GODINEAU increases from day to-day, and is fully justified. This powerful specific restores health and vigour every day to numberless invalids whose cure was despaired of. All weakened or debilated organic systems are speedily strengthened after treatment with the ELIXIR GODINEAU, the effect of which is as sure as it is rapid. Sole Agents for India, Burma and Ceylon.

GUARANTEED CURE

LEUCODERMA & LEPROSY

Leucoderma or White Skin does not easily change colour and the so-called unscientific pills and oils only aggravate. But Behar Chemical Works proudly declare that to-day they are able to place before the public Scientific remedies after laborious provings and tremendous expenses—remedies that are non-irritant, non mercurial, i, e, totally harmless drugs producing no reaction. These remove rapidly the white patches by supplying natural pigments and expelling all impurities from the blood. Whatever the nature of the disease, hereditary, venereal poison or any other known and unknown source of infection, chronic or acute cases' all skin eruptions due to deficiency of colouring matter or mercurial poisoning—all cases are cured by our specifics both internal and external uses at Rs. 10 per set, Postage 8 as. Writes Mr. B. Sinha from Port Blair:—The medicines for the white patches were used on my son and the patient got too much benefit from its effects and ultimately cured—a wonderful thing for the Leucoderma in the world which you are selling at such a cheap rate for the public. If it was sold at Rs. 50 instead of at Rs. 10 it would have been very cheap. Mr. Sayed Sahabuddin, Collector's office, Anantapur, Madras, Writes—I went to the Medical officer again on 7.7-21 and he examined me. He told that the medicine is giving effect and he advised me to continue the same medicine for two months more, so I request you to send me the medicine at lest for 60 days per return of post.

Leprosy whether Tubercular, Nodular Lepra Maculo Anasthetica or Mixed Leprosy—all the known varieties are promptly checked, and cured by our Scientific remedies including internal medicines external drugs (application. fumigation and bath) which cost Rs. 15 per patient. NON-CO-OPERATION.

NEWS FROM ALL QUARTERS

The Secretary of the District Congress Committee, Etawah, wires:—

On the 24th instant, Pratap Bhonu, a staunch Congress volunteer of Phaphund District, Etawah, was arrested under section 409 and was sent at Cawnpore for trial on Sunday (Aug. 29) noon. He had left police service without tendering resignation in pursuance of non-co-operation. For some time he had taken part in picketing liquor shops in Etawah city.

All the Dhulia cloth merchants resolved not to order foreign cloth. Young merchants enthusiasm is noteworthy.

DR. PARANJPYE'S CASE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

AKOLA, Aug. 31.

Dr. S. N. Paranjpye, who is being tried on a charge of sedition before the First Class Magistrate of Akola, has filed a statement in the course of which he maintains there is no legal or reliable evidence before the Court to ascertain precisely what he spoke and the main theme of his lectures was to call upon the people to strive hard for winning Swaraj as preached by the Indian National Congress. His criticism was directed only against various measures of the Government and there he did not transgress constitutional limits.

SWADESHI IN POONA.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

POONA, Sept. 1.

At an influential meeting of cloth merchants held in the Someshwar temple, Mr. N. C. Kelkar and Mr. Bhopatkar gave stirring addresses exhorting the merchants of Poona to co-operate heartily with Congress workers in Swadeshi and Boycott by making greater arrangements for the sale of "khaddar" and Swadeshi cloth and also greater production of the same by supplying Indian mill-yarn to hand-weavers and generally encouraging hand spinners. Seth Hanmantram, Seth Ramnarayan and others gave splendid response and assured the audience that swadeshi cause was near their heart.

KARACHI MUNICIPALITY AND PRINCE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

KARACHI, Sept. 1.

The Managing Committee, Karachi Municipality, resolved that the president be requested to make representation to Government that the stay of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales be prolonged beyond March 17, as announced. Application to be made to the Commissioner in Sind was discussed for permission to present an address to His Royal Highness and that a sum of Rs. 25,000 be provided to cover the cost of casket, address, seating accommodation at the railway station, fete and sweetmeats for children and contribution to the Central Fund for decoration of the city. Two Non-Co-operator members recorded dissent.

TO-DAY—THE STORY OF A GREAT LOVE!

The most powerful Drama ever screened of how a woman revenged herself on the man who deceived her!

Messrs. K. D. and Brothers present during the current Week

"The Broken Butterfly"

From the Story "Marcene" Ry Penelope Knapp Directed by Maurice Tourner Released by Robertson Cole a masterpiece of love and pathos, adapted from the great story by Penelope Knapp, produced under the the direction of the great master of screen drama, Maulice Tourneur.

A symphony of love and pathos — a drama that moves the heart with its overwhelming appeal.

A MUSICAL MASTER-PIECE—

Inspired by the thunderous crash of a storm.

"The Broken Butterfly"

"Your sin has found you out! I wil tell the whole village that you are a scarlet woman — the mother of a base-born child!" Marcene shrank from the avenging Nemesis, the woman who gloated over her shame. A sensitive soul, thirsting for happiness, she had sinned because she had loved too much. "You will live a maid—and die a mother!"—the old gypsy fortune-teller had phophesied, and now it seemed that the dire prophesy was to come true. Taking her child in her arms, Marcene ran from the house, through the blinding storm, and plunged into the black water of the ranging river. But sinister fate decreed that she should live and see her lover, the husband of her own sister, for they thougt she had perished. What did they do when they learned that Marcene still lived?

PIECE-GOODS.

The past week has been a short one owing to holidays, during which time the cloth market has presented a dull appearance, and in the absence of demand, there is hardly anything doing. The rate fluctuations in the face of exchange have not improved the position to any appreciable extent. The sentiment in favour of Swadesi cloths is still existing. The political situation is not free from anxiety. All this tends to restrict free buying. Clearances have not been satisfactory and considerable difficulty is being experienced by way of finance. It is reported that, during the past fortnight, several failures including two piece-goods trading firms, have occurred in Delhi. Everywhere there seems to be loss of confidence amongst the merchants. At a meeting of the cloth dealers of Calcutta, mostly Marwaries, held on the 24th August last printed forms, agreeing not to sell foreign cloth, were signed. The campaign for the boycott of foreign cloth has begun, and the shopkeepers are fearing the movement will seriously affect the coming "Gania" sale.

The cloth markets were closed on Friday the 2nd instant owing to "Ammos" holiday and will be closed on Monday the 5th instant on account of Jain holiday.

MILL-STORES-MARKET.

September 2.

A quieter tone prevailed in the mill stores market, and no important movements have been recorded in the current week. Sales both local and inter-port are comparatively limited, and consequently, few transactions have been reported. There is very little tendency on part of the mill consumers to hold stocks, as there are no bear possibilities of any limitation in the rates of various commodities. Textiles and Reeds are also quiet, and few lots of fresh arrivals changed hands at Rs. 3-8 and those of Reeds at Rs. 4-6. Retail bazar rates are slightly higher. Roller Cloth and Flannels are still somewhat scarce. Fillets are very dull, and the prices quoted are varying between Rs. 1-6 and Rs. 1-12 per ft. Emery, stripping and Burnishing fillets have little demand. Shuttles and Bobbins are almost steady without brisk demand.

The quotations are as under :—

Healds, Rs. 3-4; Reeds, As. 5; Roller cloth, Rs. 11112; Pickers, Rs 85; Picking Bands, Rs. 2-10; Roller-skins, Rs 80—120, Roller-cloth, Rs 11-12; Shubbins, Rs. 38—45; Rowings, Rs. 37; Ring Rabbeth 5 ins. Rs. 13-8 Conical Pirn 5 ins. Rs. 9; Cylinder and Doffer Fillets, Rs. 1-10.

CHEMICALS MARKET.

September 2.

The dominating feature of the chemicals market is decidedly lethargy with a steady decline in values. Arrivals have been large, especially from Germany, and the demand from consumers quarters has been small at present, which has caused a recession in the chemicals market. Aniline salt has come down to as. 14 per lb. Bichromate of potash was offered at Rs. 65, and Antimony salt changed hands at Rs. 12 per lb. Bleaching powder, Caustic soda, Zinc Chloride and Sodium Sulphide have also recorded decline in values.

Among starches, Farina has gone to Rs. 26 whereas, forward quotation has been £29 C I F Bombay, for Dutch quality. Sago has been quoted at Rs. 13-8, and is steady since long. Maize starch has recorded slight decline and is quoted at Rs. 23 for American Pearl. Rice and Wheat starch are steady.

The quotation are as under :—

Bleaching Powder (German), Rs. 23; Caustic soda, Rs. 34; Sodium Sulphide, Rs. 20 U.A.; Sodium Sulphide (Jap.), Rs. 28; Zinc Chloride, Rs. 35, Zinc Chloride, Rs. 30 (German); Bichromate Soda, Rs. 50; Bichromate Potash, Rs. 60; Aniline Salt, As. 14; Antimony Salt, Rs. 1-12; Epsom Salt, Rs. 9; Glauber Salt, Rs. 6.

COLOUR-MARKET.

September 2.

In sympathy with the other markets the Colour-market continues lifeless. Poor business passed in Alizarine and other miscellaneous dyes. The stockists are eager for business and the market remains more in favour of the buyers. The absence of livey demand has much affected the indenting business. The tone is poor and there are no prospects of immediate improvement.

Quotations :—

Alizarine 20 per cent Rs. 140 per cwt
Alizarine 20 per cent (Br.) Rs. 150 per cwt.
Congo-Red, Rs. 3-4 to 3-12 per lb.
Magenta Crystals, Rs. 13 per lb.
Direct Green Con. Rs. 6-7 per lb.
Mehtyl Violet Rs. 8 per lb
Malachite Green, Rs. 7-8 per lb.
Victoria Blue, Rs. 8-8 per lb.
Alcole Blue C. Paste, Rs. 4 ped lb
Auramine Conc. Rs. 9 per lb.
Mehtyl Violet R 424 Rs. 8-8 per lb
Rhodamine B., Rs. 4-4 per lb.

HOME MARKETS.

Home Markets owing to bad condition of the American Cotton continue to advance violently as will be seen from the table below. The Bureau condition report received by us gives 49·1 per cent against 7·1 per cent a deterioration of 15 per cent compared with last month. We had strongly recommended our friends months ago to buy at 12 cents distant months. March and May 9·0. We now strongly recommended them to sell out their holdings and also advise them to go short, as the present advance is too rapid and Manchester and Lancashire trade reports poor.

FINANCE.

Imperial Bank balance is up by Rs. 165 lakhs this week and the Bank rate is unchanged. Conditions in the Money Market remain unchanged; inter-bank call money rate is still 1½ per cent., and the short deposit rate is about 2½ to 3 per cent. It is believed that the Government will issue Treasure Bills after the payment of the 5½ per cent. Loan is completed.

Exchange opened weak on Speculative covering, but soon firmed up as export bills were showing both in Calcutta and in Bombay. It is believed that a large business was done in "Yen" Bills against export of cotton to Japan, chiefly for forward delivery. While, in Calcutta export of Heassian to America is also taking place on improved scale. In the absence of any substantial inquiry for remittance, the market continues in a healthy state and a steady rise in Exchange is quite likely. The highest and the lowest rates of the market are 1/4 13/16 and 1/4 1/8

COUNTY CRICKET.

POSITIONS OF LEADERS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Sept. 2.

The following are the final positions of the leaders in the Country Championship:—

Middlesex	74.94
Surrey	70.43
Yorkshire	70.40

CRICKET.

SUSSEX V. AUSTRALIANS.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Recd. 1-45 p.m., Sept. 2.

There were seven thousand-spectators present at Brighton to-day when the match between Sussex and the Australians opened in glorious weather. The Australians batted first on a perfect fast wicket and in two and three-quarter hours were dismissed for 209 runs. The side was saved from collapse by Ryder 40 and Taylor 72. A. E. Gilligan took four wickets for 82 and Jupp four for 41. When stumps were drawn Sussex had scored 121 for three wickets.

POONA RACES.

1ST MEETING—2ND DAY.

SELECTIONS BY "JOVE."

THE AGA KHAN'S CUP. 1½ Miles.

GOOD HEALTH looks a real good thing in this race. The day that Brendan won he was looking very fit and was always well up.

In the same race FIRST FLIER and WILLIAM THE BEAU also ran very prominently and I like them to run 2nd and 3rd.

THE POONA PLATE.—1 Mile.

From his showing in the race referred to above when he was handy all the way, I think BELL METAL should have no difficulty in winning. GALWAY GATE if he can get the distance should run 2nd and RAMADAN 3rd.

THE AUTUMN PLATE. 1½ Miles.

MARCODIA with 7-12 should just about run the others off their legs. The distance will also suit SILVER SAINT, FLEURBAIX and DORI and the remaining places should be filled by them.

THE VISITORS' PLATE. 6 Furls. (Div. I.)

The last time out BLACKWATER ran very prominently and I think the race should be between him and WALHACHIN with TOURNEY for a place. KILCLOON the outsider.

THE VISITORS' PLATE. 6 Furls. (Divn. II.)

If BOX O' TRICKS goes out this time I shall have nothing else. In his absence DIALECT should win with a tussle for places between WHITE POPPY, ALLENSMORE and SOSPELLO.

H. H. THE FIRST AGA KHAN'S COMMEMORATION PLATE.

This will be a match between MANDIL and DARTMOOR. Both have been out once only and from what I observed of their running I think MANDIL will just about beat DARTMOOR.

THE POONA ARAB PONY DERBY. 6 Furls.

KOOLEB an easy winner with a fight between SAMMY, CENTRY, ALL CLEAR and LAST DAY for places.

THE MODERATE PLATE. 6 Furls.

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

Yesterday morning, Mr. William Cox aged 33 years, a fitter working in the B. B. and C. I. Railway Workshops, residing with Mr. Albert Napier Kennedy in New Lane. De Lisle Road, was heard screaming in front of his kitchen. Immediately some neighbours went to him and saw his hair burning and also noticed two razor cuts on his neck. The fire was, however, put out and he was at once removed to the J. J. Hospital where his injuries are being attended to.

It appears that Mr. Cox inflicted the razor cuts in order to commit suicide. It is also said that as Mr. Cox did not succeed in bringing about his death by cutting his throat, he poured Kerosine Oil on his head and set fire to his hair. The Police enquired of Mr. Cox when the latter said that he wanted to commit suicide.

DEATH OF MR. H. CHALMERS.

The manager of the National Bank of India, Bombay, writes:—"It is with deep regret we have to inform you that we have received telegraphic advice from our London office intimating the death on the 31st ultimo, following an operation for appendicitis, of Mr. Henry Chalmers, Director and General Manager of the Bank. Mr. Chalmers was for many years manager of the Bombay Branch of the Bank."

Telephone Message

John—Hallo!

Harry—The Cricket Season has commenced

J.—Yes.

H.—Is your kit all right?

J.—No. There are some odds that I want to buy, but can't decide where to buy.

H.—Have you tried DODHY & SONS? Kanta Terrace, at Kalbadevi Road. They have just unpacked large consignments of English Cricket Bats, Balls, and Leg guards, etc., and also there own FACTORY made goods. Let us go there this afternoon. They are the BEST and CHEAPEST.

J.—Do they undertake REPAIR also?

H.—Yes. They do, and do it VERY NICELY, and their CHARGES ARE MODERATE. I had my bat repaired from them.

PICKETING IN BOMBAY.

BOMBAY LAWYER'S LAUDABLE HELP.

Messrs. Mohanlal M. Desai, and Khurshed F. Nariman, Hon. Secretaries, of the Bar Association, Bombay, writes to the Hon. Secretary, the Picketing Vigilance Committee, as under:—

"Dear Sir,—We are glad to inform you that the legal gentlemen in the accompanying list have enlisted themselves as volunteers to help the good and laudable cause your Committee has undertaken. These gentlemen have undertaken to visit, if possible, all the shops in the city, at least once a day, if convenient after 6 p.m. which is considered to be the busiest time and try their best to help the picketers to carry on their work successfully and smoothly. Some of these gentlemen have also undertaken to actually picket the shops for some time.

We hope you will accept their cooperation and keep them in close touch and communicate with the heads of the pickets in various branches. We intend to divide and distribute various localities in the city so as to cause least inconvenience both to the picketers as well as to the gentlemen concerned.

You will please communicate with the undersigned.

Wishing you every success in your laudable undertaking."

In response to the call by this Picketing Vigilance Committee the following gentlemen in the legal line have volunteerd to form a superintending and superwising committee to:—

(a) Visit the Liquor shops from time to time, to assist advise and guide the pickets in their work and make efforts to remove legitimate grievances both of the liquor shop keepers as well as of the pickets and to try to remove misunderstandings that may be existing between them

(b) To defend "amicae" pickets if unjustifiably and illegally arrested and prosecuted by the police.

Messrs. B. T. Desai, C. N. Kanuga (for 'b' only), B. T. Dhamlay (for 'b' only), S. B. Banaji (Bar-at-Law), M. N. Chhatrapati, M. M. Kotasthane, D. N. Deshpande, D. S. Babrekar, K. R. Bhenda, P. N. Vijaykar, C. P. Desai, V. S. Navalkar (Aggar Bazar, Dadar), V. P. Patankar, Wadala, Matunga, R. R. Gadkari, Lady Jamshedji Road, Mahim, H. B. Mahandavle, Parel, Himatlal Parikh, B. B. Pathare, B. S. Chirputkar, P. A. Mahale, K. Bodas, A. R. Gadkari.

Apropos this, the Hony. Secretary of the Vigilance Committee writes to say:—

"In addition to these gentlemen Mr. Mulgaonkar Solicitor also consented to supervise picketing. The Vigilance Committee are highly obliged to all these gentlemen, and I take this opportunity of thanking one and all of them publicly. Will other public spirited men now give us some portion of their leisure hours, and come forward to help the Motherland?"

PICKETING AT FORAS ROAD.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The Chairman Vigilance Committee, writes to say:

Mr. Silam, Secretary, Byculla District Congress Committee, who is in charge of picketing of that ward complained to me that Inspector Power, would not let the Volunteers picket shop No. 137 Foras Road.

I approached the Committee of Lawyers who have kindly offered their services to assist picketing. Messrs. Banaji (Bar-at-Law) and Gadkari agreed to be at the shop.

I reached the shop at 6-30 p.m. There were three Police constables near the shop and seeing me two of them hurriedly proceeded presumably towards the Nagpada Police Station. I picketed the shop from 6-30 p.m. to 9-30 p.m. Messrs. Banaji and Gadkari arrived there at 7-30 p.m. I showed them that this shop like so many others in Bombay had two entrances, and liquor was being served from both the places. Messrs. Banaji and Gadkari left at about 8-30 p.m.

Soon, after Mr. J. B. Patel, (Bar-at-Law) arrived, and so did Messrs. Silam & Popala. Soon after the arrival one Mahomaden named Mahamadu who had been served liquor twice before, last evening, went in for the third time and took up a bottle (full) and dashed it against the steps, very near where we were. The Parsee gentleman in charge of the shop asked him what he was doing. The man said he did so because he was asked to do so by his man at the same time pointing to that individual in the shop, whereupon the Parsee shopkeeper pretending to be angry said he would not serve anymore liquor to him and asked him to leave the shop. If we were not there I believe, our volunteers would have been charged as was the case in some prosecutions during the last picketing. Strangely enough Mr. Power, who would not allow any picketing for the two previous days did not turn up at all yesterday but kept a Jamadar, a havaldar and a sepoy near the shop all the time.

Picketing elsewhere is going on as usual.

"A PICKET FINED."

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—In your issue today there is a heading "A Picketer Fined" I beg to draw the attention of your readers and the public in general, that since the resumption of picketing orders have been issued to the ward Captains to dismiss immediately any volunteer found undesirable.

The volunteer in question was dismissed by his Captain early in the evening and his badge taken away. You will thus note this man was neither a volunteer nor a picket.—Yours, etc.,

V. A. DESAI
Chairman Vigilance Committee.

POLICE PICKETING

CALCUTTA, Sept. 1.

According to leaflets issued by Congress and Khilafat Committees boycotting sales of foreign cloth was to commence to-day. Apprehending trouble and interference, police authorities took special precautions. Pickets of police constables were posted in Barra Bazar while Deputy Commissioner of Police with two Assistant-Commissioners and a number of subordinate officers constantly visited the shops dealing in foreign clothes. Khilafat volunteers did not make appearance and there was no picketting. Sale went on as usual.

BOMBAY POLICE COURT.

ELPHINSTONE HOSTEL CASE.

"WHAT IS SALOME DANCE?"

At the Esplanade Police Court yesterday before. R. B. Chunilal Setalwad Mr. H. M. Shekedar and Mr. J. B. Shukadeo charged Messrs. R. G. Tardine, W. H. Wild, F. C. Kellaway, J. Henshil Wood and D. Lea for trespass, insult and assault and wrongful connement and criminal intimidation under sections 441, 504, 352, 341 and 506 I. P. C.

The facts of the case are already reported in these column.

The complainants are the students in the Elphinstone College and reside in the College Hostel, Old Wing, at Wodenouse Road, Colaba. All the accused are residing on the flats adjoining the College Hostal. Mr. S. F. Nariman pleader appeared for the complainant, while Mr. D. B. Bunning, Bar-at-law defended the second and the fourth accused and Mr. Vicaji F. Vicaji Bar-at-law appeared for the third and fifth accused.

The first accused having not been served with summons was not present in the Court.

At the outset Mr. Nariman applied for an adjournment on the ground that the first accused was not served with summons.

Mr. Binning:—I can only say that the accused is not likely to be served with summons because he is touring in other parts of India. I am anxious that this case should go on because one of our witnesses is going on leave and he has been detained for the present.

"CAN IT BE SETTLED?"

Magistrate Cannot case like this to be settled?

Mr. Binning:—I asked my clients to settle the case but there are one or two scandalous allegations against them in the complaint and if these allegations are withdrawn the case could be settled. The allegations were that my clients were indulging in "Salome Dance" which are not true. I wonder if the complainants or Mr. Nariman know what that dance is. It was a dance in which a lady dances without any clothes with a plate in her hand. Mr. Nariman—It is most objectionable dance. The dancing was naked:

Magistrate I have no desire to interfere. If this parties are well pleased then Magistrate can see whether the case is settled or not.

Mr. Binning:—If Mr. Nariman can see his way to withdraw the scandalous allegations I should settle the case.

Mr. Nariman:—They are not scandalous but true.

Mr. Vicaji said that it was not the first case of the kind and he too was anxious that the case be settled.

Mr. Nariman said he could appreciate the desire of the court to settle the case, but looking to the way in which the complainants were handled by the accused, he thought it was natural for the defence to minimize it. Personally he had nothing to do with it but it was a matter between the parties to settle or not.

His Worship then granted the adjournment till the 14th instant. He said it was given on the distinct understanding that if the first accused was not served with summons the case against the rest of the accused will go out.

POLICE INSPECTOR'S WINNING.

WARRANT AGAINST BUCKET SHOOPKEEPER

At the Esplanade Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. G. K. Khairaz, Acting Third Presidency Magistrate, Mr. Robert George Shead, Inspector of Police at Pydhonie, applied for a search warrant to be issued against one Balaram Anantram, a bucket shopkeeper. Mr. Goodinho, Pleader with Mr. Reuben Solomon, pleader, appeared for the complainant.

In his application to the Court, Mr. Shead, said that on the 29th August 1921 he filled in four printed forms of the accused's club which are supplied in the ordinary course to the members of the Club. The four forms contained three treblings he had framed in respect of races to be run at Poona that day. He had backed three horses viz.—Dinbet, Fretworth and Subea for win and place Rs. 10 either way. All the horses won the races in which they were respectively run and according to the dividends paid his aggregate winnings amounted to Rs. 41,000.

His Worship ordered that a search warrant be issued against the accused.

BREAKDOWN OF A MOTOR LORRY.

RESULT IN DEATH OF A LABOURER

Motor lorry No. 592 loaded with cotton bales was going along the Reay Road on the 31st ultimo at about 2 p.m. when a beam under the wagon gave way and as a result of which most of the bales fell down along with a labourer, Bhimji Ramsanji by name aged 55 years, who was seated on the top of the bales. He was immediately picked up in an unconscious state and was subsequently removed to the J. J. Hospital where he died of fracture of the skull and multiple injuries.

FATAL CRUSH UNDER COTTON BALE.

At Colaba some labourers were rolling bales towards the seats on Thusday in a cotton godown belonging to Khimji Vishnu, when a bale thrown from a stock into a passage struck a labourer, Yema Tukaram, aged 30 years at the back with the result that he soon died.

An inquest was held on the body of the deceased, when a jury returned a verdict that his death was caused by the accidental fall of a bale.

A BUILDING ON FIRE.

On the 1st instant at about 9 p.m. a fire broke out in a two storied house belonging to Dada Abba and situated at Duncan Road. The fire brigade was communicated with as soon as the flames were delicted. The fire was brought under control after a stremious struggle for three quarters of an hour. The ground floor of the building was stored with cotton waste belonging to one subman Bengalee, while the first floor was occupied by a Hindu merchant and contained cotton drippings. The fire originated in the first floor and spread to the second and ground floors. Considerable damage has been done to the godown. The cause of the fire is unknown.

"BOYCOTT" PROCESSION AT MANDVI.

The Mandvi District Congress Committee have organised a big "Boycott" procession to take place to-morrow (Sunday). The procession will start from the Congress office at 8 a.m. (S. T.), and will be attended by the members of the Managing Council of the Committee. All the volunteers corps of Mandvi are requested to be present in the office at 7 a.m. (S. T.). The procession will pass through all the principal streets of Mandvi Ward and collect foreign clothes either for burning or for sending abroad.

FOUNDER OF THE MARATHA EMPIRE.
BY
Prof. N. S. TAKAKHAV, M A.
This is the only most authentic and exhaustive biography of the great National Hero ever published in the English language representing this real character and conclusively disproving some of the very depreciatory positions advanced against him by several English and even Indian historians; and as the work happens to be the faithful adaptation of the original Marathi biography written after a very careful and critical study of all the available sources of information, by a Maratha scholar who comes from the same warrior race to which the great Shivaji belonged, all lovers of fairplay will, it is earnestly, hoped, like to know what he has got to say, and encourage the writer and publisher by sending orders for the book to the Publisher, K.A. LORD READING'S QUANDARY.

Signs are not wanting to show that the enemies of Indian progress, here as well as in England, are busy exploiting the opportunity afforded to them by the Moplah outbreak to create a panicky atmosphere in official circles and to stampede the Powers-that-be into more vigorous and general repressive action against the "agitators." Immediately after the outbreak in Malabar, a report was circulated by the London correspondent of a Madras Anglo-Indian journal that the Government of India had finally decided on prosecuting the Ali brothers. To every sane man the report must have appeared incredible on the face of it, unless, indeed, he was prepared to believe that Simla officialdom, with Lord Reading at the head, had suddenly gone mad, as a consequence of the fit of panic induced by the Malabar tragedy. But even so prejudiced an observer as the London "Times," had the honesty to admit that the movement in Malabar was only a local affair and need not be construed as an all-India symptom. The talk of the prosecution of the Ali Brothers then subsided. But correspondents in England seem to be bent on continually making our flesh "creep" and now we have the London correspondent of the "Statesman" cabling a scare-raising report about how the India Office is viewing the situation in India. According to the correspondent, "the gravity of the general situation in India, particularly in the southern area, is fully realised at the India Office." As this however, may mean anything or nothing, the correspondent proceeds to tell the readers of the "Statesman" in all confidence that "it is understood that the Indian Government, supported by the Secretary of State for India, contemplate taking immediate action against the principal agitators." The cable is dated August 26 and is later by six days than that received by the "Madras Mail." It is still difficult to divine how much truth there is in these reports. We, in common with the rest of our countrymen, are hoping against hope that the panic, if any, which may have seized any member or members of the Government of India, will have entirely subsided by this time. But some portents which are manifesting themselves afresh at present afford cause for serious disquiet. Following the "discovery" of a seditious movement among the Moplahs came the official attempt to suppress it with the use of armed force—with all the tragic consequences we have seen during the last fortnight. We note that Lord Willingdon has already prejudged the issue so far as Malabar is concerned and has warned his Legislative Council that Malabar is not the only district which gives cause for anxiety.

In the wake of the conflagration in Malabar comes the sinister report from the Punjab that the G. I. D. there have unearthed a "conspiracy" among the Akali Sikhs "to overthrow the British Government and to assassinate some Europeans and non-European officials and others." We are told that the Sikhs already arrested in connection with this "conspiracy" will shortly be placed on their trial. During the last few months the Punjab Government have been issuing manifestos after manifestos to persuade the people of the Province, and particularly the Sikh community, to believe that they are not engaged in any campaign of general repression against the Akali section of the Sikhs. The Akalis are composed of the more advanced, religiously as well as politically, elements of the Sikhs. But the official assurances have failed to achieve their object for the simple reason that the professions of Punjab officialdom have not kept pace with the hunt that goes on in the province, in the name of "peace and order," for the heads of the leaders of the Akali Sikhs. In face of the savage sentences passed on leaders like Sardar Sardul Singh, and Sardar Jhabbar Singh, the Sikhs find it difficult to believe that the Government of the Punjab are not engaged in a general represseion of their aspirations. So representative and responsible a body as the Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee would not have readily endorsed the policy of non-co-operation with Government and called upon Sikh members of the Councils to resign their seats, if they did not feel convinced that local officialdom was out to crush the politically-minded section of the Sikhs. If any additional proof of Sikh scepticism regarding the professions of the local Government were needed, it is furnished by the dignified protest addressed to Government by Sardar Mehtab Singh, Deputy President of the Punjab Council and the Public Prosecutor of the province, who has also sent in his resignation of membership of the Council. That such a trusted friend of Government as Sardar Mehtab Singh should have deemed it obligatory to take the extreme step he has taken, shows that something is radically wrong with the Punjab Government. The policy of conciliation-cum-repression which has found favour with Sir Edward Maclagan is now seen to have signally failed to heal the wounds of the Punjab. There are only two alternatives before the Government—either real conciliation or downright repression. Which of the alternatives are the Punjab Government going to adopt? It is, perhaps, superfluous to put the question to the Punjab Government, for the tendency they have been betraying more and more of late is towards unmitigated repression.

It is to the Central Government that one must look for an answer. Is Lord Reading prepared to give a free hand to Sir Edward Maclagan as did His Excellency's predecessor to Sir Edward's predecessor to deal with the people of the Punjab? Already the evil results of the carte blanche given to Lord Willingdon and Sir Harcourt Butler are sufficient unto the day. Is Lord Reading going to permit the reckless plunging of the Punjab once more into general turmoil and suffering, before the wounds of the people of that province have had time to heal? If he does not cry "halt", not only in the Punjab, but everywhere in this country, then good-bye to peace and contentment in India for a long time to come. No greater opportunity for the display of real British statesmanship has presented itself in the history of the British Empire ere this than that which faces Lord Reading. Will he prove equal to the task and win renown as a real saviour of the Empire, or will he surrender his discretion and judgment to the Moloch of prestige and false imperialism?

SIR EVAN MACONOCHIE'S OUTBURST.

We published yesterday a letter signed by Mr. D. B. Shukla and his nine colleagues of the Kathiawad Hitavardhak Sabha, challenging Sir Evan Maconochie to state the facts on which he made defamatory statements in his recent speech at Dhrangadhra where he evidently went to bless the high-handed and repressive policy of the State authorities. Mr. Shukla has sent us the fall text of Sir Evan's speech and asks us to comment on it. We have read the speech and we find it to be the usual sort of speech that an Agent or Resident generally makes to camouflage inconvenient truths about the happenings in Indian States and the part played by himself with reference to them. As such it is not worth notice. The one unusual feature of the speech was the amazing outburst of petulance on the part of the Agent against the popular leaders of Kathiawad. As the signatories of the letter we published yesterday say, the Agent was entitled to his opinion as to the wisdom of the attack against them, but before making defamatory statements he should have based them on facts and those facts should have been mentioned in his speech. They have, therefore, challenged him to let the public know what facts and evidence he had before him "to justify him in taking away the character of those whom he described as 'political wiseacres.'" They add that unless he does so, not only will the public be justified in believing that these allegations are unfounded, but also "in putting its own construction on the purpose which lay behind them." The purpose, in fact, is not difficult to discover. However, the public will await with interest Sir Evan Maconochie's reply to the challenge.

Notes of the Day.

Lala Lajpatrai on "Liberals."

Lala Lajpatrai in the article which we publish elsewhere has dealt with the political creed of our "Liberal" friends in the United Provinces in the trenchant manner peculiarly his own. He points out the glaring inconsistency between the professions of these soi-disant Liberals and their practices. We too had something to say upon this point a few days ago. Our remarks about the professions and practices of the "Liberal" Minister of Education of the United Provinces, in particular, appeared to have touched the amour propre of the recognised organ of "Liberalism" there. The "Leader" insinuates that we along with the "Independent" failed to ascertain facts before making our "ill-informed comments." But, strange to say, the "Leader" itself fails to tell us whether the one important fact we disclosed—Mr. Chintamani's recommendation for the retention of the Seditious Meetings Act—is a fact or not. Our contemporary conveniently skips over this item altogether! And yet it has the hardihood to ask us to ascertain the "facts" before commenting on them! The journal also makes a grievance of the fact that we criticised Mr. Chintamani, who, we are told, "has nothing to do with the department of law and justice." while "the member in charge of it in the local Government has been immune from criticism." But, may we ask, why if Mr. Chintamani had "nothing to do" with the administration of law and justice, he went out of his way to take upon himself the duty of rebutting the charge levelled at his Government, during the debate on the resolution on the Prince of Wales' tour, that they were indulging in general repression? If it was none of his business he ought to have kept silent and allowed "the member in charge" to defend the Government. Nor is it true that the Raja of Mahmudabad has been "practically immune from criticism" in this journal. If Mr. Chintamani's attitude has come in for strong criticism, it is because he has himself invited it by denouncing, in season and out of season, the non-cooperation movement and justifying all the repression going on in his province, while even his own non-official "Liberal" friends have seen the necessity of regretting and condemning it.

Non-Cooperation No Exotic.

One of the ignorant criticisms levelled at the Non-Cooperation movement is that it is an exotic, its spirit being alien to the genius of the Indian people. Lala Lajpatrai has made short work of such puerile criticism, which springs from ignorance of Indian history. As Lala Lajpatrai has shown, the principle of non-cooperation has been well-known to Indians throughout their history. Even to-day, its practical application is seen in many Indian States, especially the badly administered States, whenever the ryats or the Bhayyats or the Girasdars find it impossible to put up with the tyranny of the State. The events reported recently in States like Tonk, Sirohi and Mansa, were all a manifestation of the very spirit of non-cooperation which our "Liberal" critics like Munshi Narayan Prasad Asthana say is alien to Indian genius. We reproduce below an extract from Abbe Dubois well-known work on "Hindu Manners, Customs and Ceremonies" written over a hundred years ago, to show that far from being an exotic, the movement has its basis in the customs and traditions of the race:—

"In India, where the princes and the aristocracy live in extreme indolence, attaching little importance to making their dependants happy and taking small pains to inculcate in them a sense of right and wrong, there are no other means of attaining these desirable ends and preserving good order than by authoritative rulings of the caste system. . . . . caste authority is often a check against abuses which the despotic rulers of the country are too apt to indulge in. Sometimes one may see, as the result of a caste order, the tradesmen and merchants of a whole district closing their shops, the labourers abandoning their fields, or the artisans leaving their workshops, all because of some petty insult or of some petty extortion suffered by some member of their caste; and the aggrieved people will remain obstinately in this state of opposition until the injury has been atoned for and those responsible for it punished."

An Appeal to Bombay

We publish elsewhere a letter from Mr. E. L. Iyer of the Madras Central Labour Federation regarding the Labour situation in that city. The letter speaks for itself. The workers of the Buckingham and Carnatic Mills have been locked out and have remained without employment for over three months. During this period attempts have been made to break the solidarity of the strikers. As Mr. Iyer says, a split has been partially effected by playing upon caste feeling but the bulk of Adi-Dravids have remained loyal to their fellow-workers. The Government of Lord Willingdon have shown in what direction their sympathy lies. The workers have not yet been starved into submission. But they may be so starved unless all friends of Labour who realise that the latter are fighting a just cause come to their assistance. We hope the appeal to Bombay will meet with generous response.

Barbarous Laws.

To punish a man with imprisonment for breach of contract to work is barbarous. Yet this relic of barbarism still disfigures the Indian statute-book. We are glad, therefore, that Mr. N. M. Joshi proposes to move a resolution in the present session of the Legislative Assembly asking for the repeal of laws which make a breach of contract on the part of a labourer a criminal offence. Section 490 of the Indian Penal Code provides for punishment for breach of contract of service during voyage or journey. This section was prompted by anxiety on the part of the Law Commissioners to protect the interests of the English population while performing "journeys of many miles over uninhabited wastes and through jungles in which it is dangerous to linger for a moment, in palanquins borne by persons of the lowest classes." Whatever justification there might have been in those days when Lord Macaulay elaborated his reasons for this law, its continuance to-day, is an outrage. Section 492 of the Indian Penal Code punishes breach of contract to serve at a distant place to which the servant is conveyed at the master's expense. The Workmen's Breach of Contract Act provides for cases in which the employer has given advances of money to the worker. This law was modified to some extent last year but the principle on which it is based is so obnoxious that it must be ended forthwith. This Act added to the rigours of Section 492 of the Penal Code. by providing for a summary trial, when Section 492 contemplated only an ordinary trial.

Indian Vegetable Soap

During the past decade or two several enterprising firms in this country, both Indian and European, have placed on the Indian market toilet soaps manufactured in the country. Most of these soaps, however, have been of the cheap variety. Indian manufacturers except perhaps in one or two cases have not yet succeeded in making really high grade soaps for the simple reason that the manufacture of such soaps requires technical knowledge of a very high order. The cheap soaps are made by mixing oil or animal fats with cold alkaline solutions in certain proportions. This method is known as the "cold process" and can be learnt in a day or two. Soaps made thus are often very imperfect and harmful to the skin. Animal fats are very easy to turn into soap, whereas it is otherwise with vegetable oils. High grade vegetable soaps from vegetable oils can be made only by one who is thoroughly acquainted with the chemistry of oils and has acquired perfect mastery of the art of soap making. It is a matter for congratulation that Mr. A. B. Godrej, the well-known safe-maker of this city, of whose patriotism the public recently had striking evidence, has succeeded after nearly eight years' patient struggle in placing on the market really high grade soaps, free, as he claims, from harmful impurities and objectionable ingredients like fats. It is, perhaps, not generally realised in this country that very few soaps imported from abroad are free from animal fats obtained from slaughter houses and, in some cases, even from common sewage. Mr. Godrej proposes to devote a substantial protion of the profits to the encouragement of technical education. The public, we have no doubt, will fully appreciate this step.

"IRISH POSITION NOT HOPELESS."

"IMPRESSON ON INDIAN DELEGATES."

GEN. SMUTS ON IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.
Recd. 9-30 p.m., Sept. 2.

Cape Town.—A large and distinguished gathering representative of the whole of South Africa was present to-day at a luncheon given in honour of Gen. Smuts on his return from the Imperial Conference.

In reply to toast the Premier dwelt upon the Irish Question and declared that the situation when the South African Representatives arrived in Britain was indescribable. The idea of such a state of affairs, if it had happened before war, would have been scouted. Gen. Smuts was appealed to almost immediately on his arrival to try and exert his moderating influence. In the first place Gen. Smuts said he could only take part in the negotiations on the request of the Irish Leaders and in the second place he did not desire to appear as a representative of the British Government but entirely as a third party who had undergone curious experiences in South Africa through bitter years.

Gen. Smuts went on to describe how discussions with continuous probing of all the difficulties by all the parties had resulted in warfare and brigandage being succeeded by Truce.

Throughout his speech Gen. Smuts was accorded tremendous applause.

POSITION NOT HOPELESS.

Gen. Smuts declared he was convinced from the start that the old Home Rule Measures were inadequate. The British Government was now pledged to the Dominion Home Rule for Ireland. The position to-day was difficult but not hopeless for the new atmosphere and the change of feeling had been created. Gen. Smuts emphasised he was still trying to keep in touch with all the Parties and was not with hope of seeing Ireland arise as South Africa had arisen before her, because the Irish situation was not so much Constitutional as Human. If iron could be got out of the souls of people and they could be persuaded to take a larger view there would be no trouble in Ireland.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Turning to Foreign Affairs the Premier laid stress upon the vast importance of the Imperial Conference at the time of the great world difficulties especially America's withdrawal from the International Affairs which had left the British Empire only stabilising influence in the World Affairs. He described the danger of the Upper Silesian situation to the world's Peace as comparable to Belgium in 1914. The Dominions had strengthened the hands of Great Britain to prevent the question of dragging France and Germany into another war, for Europe now knew that she was dealing not only with Great Britain but with the British Empire. Gen. Smuts ascribed the handing over of the Upper Silisian problem to the League of Nations to the statesmen's realisation of Dominions' dislike for militarism.

Touching upon Naval rivalry between Japan and America Gen. Smuts said he considered that Dominions had done much for the Peace of the World by making the most important contribution to the Pacific Question.

Turning to the future relations of the Empire Gen. Smuts said it had been decided to leave the constitutional position for more peaceful times. The South African Representatives had adopted a separate attitude in connection with the questions of immigration of Indians owing to South Africa's special position but as far as the Indian Problem was concerned Gen. Smuts said he considered that they had even made impression on the Indian delegates.

Gen. Smuts concluded his speech by declaring that in the hurricane which was now sweeping the world the motto was "Go Slow" and if his countrymen heeded him through the dangerous period South Africa could be in the first rank of the Nations of the World.

RIOTING IN BELFAST.

INDISCRIMINATE FIRING CONTINUES.

MILITARY TAKES CHARGE OF THE SITUATION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Sept. 2.

The battle in Belfast, which has been proceeding at brief intervals, since Monday culminated to-day when the gunmen held the centre of the city for hours. Thirty persons were taken to hospital this morning, four of whom have died of their injuries. The firing reached an intense pitch yesterday evening Isolated sniping developed into volleying duels and the tram service had to be stopped. Late armed men suddenly rushed out of the side streets and blazed away towards the centre of the city causing stampede for safety. Ambulances were kept exceedingly busy and doctors dressed wounds in the streets amid bullets. There were many noncombatant victims including a girl of six.

The shooting was renewed at noon today, the gunmen advancing boldly in the open and firing indiscriminately. Volley were fired down the principal street, the Royal Avenue, and continuous duels occurred between the police in covered cars and the gunmen. Ambulances and motorcar were again at work carrying the injured to hospitals. The centre of the city was panicstricken and business was suspended. One man was killed and many were wounded as the workers were proceeding to the shipyards. Eventually in response to the Lord Mayor's appeal for additional protection the military took charge of the situation this afternoon. The casualties now amount to fourteen killed and over o hundred wounded since Monday.

NO MORE AIRSHIP OF R 38 TYPE.

U. S. NAVAL SECRETARY'S DECLARATION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Sept. 2.

A telegram from Washington says that Mr. Denby, Secretary for the Navy has declared that he will not recommend building of further airships of the type of R38 believing them to be dangerous and of doubtful military value.

FIRE IN A NEW YORK AIRSHIP SHED.

DIRIGIBLE D 6 DESTROYED

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Sept. 2.

New York.—Gasolene explosion has set fire to an airship shed at the Rockway naval station destroying the dirigible, D.6 the largest American aircraft of its kind also a kite balloon. One man was slightly injured.

POLAND RENOUNCES ADVANTAGE.

LETTER TO THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Sept. 2.

Geneva.—Poland has sent a message to the President of the Council of the League of nations renouncing the intention of taking advantage in the present case of provision of the Covenant permitting a member of the League to be represented on the Council when matters affecting such members interests are being discussed.

CABLE ITEMS.

The death is announced of Mr. H. Chalmers, General Manager and Director of the National Bank of India. following an operation for appendicitis whilst on a holiday in Aberdeen.

In reply to an enquiry concerning the exact position of the Sukkur Barrage scheme in regard to the India Office sanction, Lord Lytton states that the project will not be begun until Government has satisfied itself that the prospects of the project being productive are thoroughly good.

Anxiety which has been felt with regard to the fate of the Amundsen's Expedition to the North Pole is relieved by a message from Reuter's Christiania Correspondent announcing that explorers vessel "Maud" has reached Seattle, and all are well.

Paris.—A Telegram from Helsingfors says that a Bolshevik Communique referring to the dissolution of the pan-Russian Relief Committee charges it with approaching Foreign Governments with a view to establishing the control of distribution of famine supplies. Communique adds:—"If Foreign Governments want to control the Soviet Government the action of Soviet will send them to the Devil".

GREEK VICTORY IN SAKARIA.

TURKS REPORTED TO BE IN FLIGHT.

A SEVEN-DAY BATTLE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 61.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Sept. 2.

Athens.—The long official silence has been broken by reports claiming Greek victory in a seven-day battle in the Sakaria district. It is alleged that the Turks have given way on the whole thirty-six mile front and are retreating to the north-east closely pursued by the Greeks.

TRIAL OF GERMAN WAR CRIMINALS.

HOWTORINGTON'S CREW WERE WILFULLY MURDERED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Recd. 1-45 p.m., Sept. 2.

In connection with the trial of the German war criminals at Leipzig evidence was to-day taken at Bow Street of Captain Starkey, the master of the British ship, Torrington which was sunk by German submarine U55, north-west of the Scillies on April 8th, 1917, when on a voyage from Gibraltar to Cardiff. Captain Werner, the commander of the submarine is charged with wilfully murdering thirty-four members of the Torrington's crew by Browning them. Captain Werner has not yet been arrested but the British and the German Governments agreed that Captain Starkey's deposition should be taken so that it would be available in the event of Captain Werner's arrest.

Captain Starkey gave evidence to the effect that the Torrington carried one gun to resist attacks. He and the crew of his lifeboat were taken on board the submarine and Captain Werner told him he was a bloody pirate and deserved to be shot. The submarine submerged and twenty of the Torrington's crew, who were on her deck, were drowned. The remainder of crew in the second lifeboat had not been heard of and were presumably otherwise disposed.

GERMAN REPUBLIC

DEMONSTRATION OF LOYALTY

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Recd. 1-45 p.m., Sept. 2.

Berlin.—Remarkable discipline was preserved on the occasion of the demonstration of lovalty to the Republic by a crowd of two-hundred thousand assembled in Lust Garten which was dotted with the Republican and the Red flags. The confidence of the authorities, who left the maintenance o forder to the organisers of the demonstration was amply justified and the throng listened to numerous orators without the slightest disturbance.

INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION FOR RUSSIAN FAMINE.

SUB-COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Sept. 2.

Paris.—The International Commission for the relief of Russian famine has decided o send Sub-commission to Russia to ascertain the needs of the population. It will consist of one representative each of France, Britain, Italy, Belgium, Japan and America. The second sub-commission will be appointed to co-ordinate voluntary efforts.

INFANT MORTALITY AT 75 PER CENT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

Paris.—The Havas Agency states that, thanks to the cooperation of the Military Air Service and Private Builders, French Aviation is enjoying a very high degree of efficiency. 40,000 Avions could be mustered immediately in case of emergency. Opening of several long-distance Air Lines is to be one of the chief objects of the forthcoming Paris Aviation Congress, and, notably, the line between London Paris Cairo Bombay, and Sydney.

MOPLAH OUTBREAKS.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT OF COUNCIL.

SECOND SESSION OF "INDIAN PARLIAMENT."

[From our own Correspondent.]

SIMLA, Sept. 2.

The second session of the so-called Indian Parliament opened to-day with two most unimpressive ceremonies of formal oath-taking in the newly constructed Assembly Chamber behind the Imperial Secretariat. The Chamber is no doubt commodious and contains several committee rooms, but it takes one's breath away to hear that about twelve lakhs had been spent upon it. Arrangements for the Press are utterly disappointing and I am afraid most of the official speakers will have to go either unreported or misreported. Further the acoustic properties of the Hall are disadvantageous and the voice echoes and reechoes much to the chagrin of press representatives.

The recent Munitions Board scandal resulting in the reported resignation of Eir Thomas Holland is the chief topic in the official as well as the non-official circles and the Council of State was therefore not surprised to hear from its President that Mr. Khaparde would move for adjournment of the House on 5th September to consider the situation created by withdrawal of the case and to afford Sir Thomas Holland an opportunity to render personal explanation. According to Mr. Montagu's statement in the House of Commons Sir Thomas Holland ought to have by this time given his personal explanation and the members of the Council of State eagerly expect from the out-going Member for Industries interesting disclosures about his part in the affair. It might be that his statement would indirectly reveal the complicated character of the administrative machinery and peculiar division of responsibility.

While keen interest is thus centred round Mr. Khapardes motion, much higgling is going on between Sir Maneckjee Dadhabhoy and Mr. Annamalai Chettiar as to who should move for adjournment of the Council regarding the Moplah outbreaks. Sir Maneckjee has just returned from England and knows about Moplahs and their rising no more than what he had read in the papers, while Mr. Chettiar coming from Madras is expected to know something of this deplorable affair.

ADJOURNMENT REGARDING MOPLAH OUTBREAKS.

But Sir Dadhabhtty claims right of priority in that he had sent in his motion earlier while Mr. Chettiar seems to advance the plea that he being a Madras member has got a better title. However the motion for adjournment will be made and this will give Sir William Vincent ample opportunity to display intellect skill and diplomacy which are his chief characteristics. It looks as if Sir William is ready with his answer and from my past experience I prophesy that whoever will move for an adjournment would in calmer moments atone for his conduct. The Moplah disturbances are indeed regrettable, but of what advantage will a discussion of them be it is impossible to understand except that Government will be afforded another occasion to deride the Hindu-Moslem unity, exagerrate the Khilafat propaganda and presumably also the mischievousness of Non-co-operation. Nobody has to analyse the causes of the outbreak because information so far supplied to the Press is meagre and vague. Therefore instead of attempting to understand the genesis of the trouble in Malabar our co-called representatives are vieing with each other to be the leader of the House in moving for adjournment. Sir Manekjee Dadhbhoy would not rest content with posing himself as leader by intiating a debate on the Moplahs. He would go further and move a resolution on the same day extending a welcome to the Prince of Wales. There can possibly be no objection to the Prince's visit, but considering the present circumstances it is not an opportune moment.

VICEROY'S EXPECTED SPEECH.

For a formal resolution of welcome to Lord Reading will be moved by the Maharaja of Dharbhanga on the same day when fulsome praises will naturally be showered on the Viceroy. Members on Saturday will be keenly interested to hear Lord Reading when he will address both the Houses of Legislature at the Assembly chamber. We all expect important announcements by the Viceroy about the Munitions Board case, Martial Law prisoners, personnel of the Fiscal Mission, his future proposals to carrying out much-talked of racial equality, etc. Then Non-co-operation movement and Moplahs rasing will undoubtedly cover a good deal of the Viceroy's speech, but what will be the probable effect of his utterance on the general temper of the country, it is too early to forsee.

I understand Mr. Rangachari will move for adjournment of the House in the Assembly on the Moplah rising and there also the Home Member will be able to justify the position he will take up in the Council of State.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT'S POSITION.

HON. MR WHYT'S STATEMENT.

SIMLA, Sept. 1.

The Hon. Mr. Whyte, in the Legislative Assembly, to-day, said that owing to the appointment of Mr. Sachidanand Sinha as member of the Governor's Executive Council in Bihar and Orissa, a vacancy had occurred in the office of the Deputy President

MALABAR RIOTS.

DESPERATE SALLY FROM MOSQUE.

ARREST OF ALI MUSALIAR AND 40 LEADERS.

REINFORCEMENTS FROM JUBBULPORE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, Sept. 2.

The following Government communique of date on Malabar riot has been issued:—The District Magistrate, Malabar, reports that retired police Inspector Khan Baha dur Cheykutti, and a Moplah constable wer murdered by rebels near Manjeri and their heads carried through bazar on spears. He also says that wholesale conversions to Mahomedanism are reported from Melattur Karavarakundu and neighbourhood. Rebels are offering Hindus the alternatives of death or Islam.

AFFRAY AT KISHAKKEFALLY MOSQUE

PRESS COMMUNIQUE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALICUT, Sept. 2.

Mr. E. F. Thomas I.C.S., District Magistrate, Malabar, has just issued the following press communique:—A British column reached Tirurangady on the 30th August and found the Kizhakkepalli mosque held by an unknown number of rebels. The mosque was surrounded but no assault made as it was desired to spare the mosque. At 9-45 on the 31st August the rebels opened fire from the mosque, rushed out and charged the troops. Twenty-four rebels were killed, our losses were three killed and five wounded and forty-two rebels surrendered. The prisoners include Ali Musaliar and other leaders. Sixteen firearms including twelve captured police rifles and corbines and a number of swords were taken.

It is strongly rumoured and believed to be true that Khan Bahadur K. V. Chekkutti, retired Inspector of Police, and head constable Aydress have been murdered by Variankunnath Kunhamad Haji of Walluvanad and his band. It has just been reported that among the rebels arrested yesterday at Tirurangadi was Awaru, a constable of Calicut Reserve force with twenty-eight years service who had been entrusted by the authorities with some urgent messages to be taken to a telegraph office, Shoranur. and who retained those messages with him and joined the rebels. Avaru has also a son and a son-in-law still in the Reserve force. Another Moplah constable with thirty-two years service is also believed to have joined the rebels. His whereabouts are not known. This afternoon about forty Moplah have been arrested from Tanur, and taken to Tirur.

DESPERATE SALLY FROM MOSQUE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, Sept. 2.

An official telegram received last night from Madras shows that further trouble has been dealt with by a detachment of Suffolk Regiment which had arrived from Jubbulpore. Further details from Tirurangadi show that as a sequel to operations there, on the 31st August, a party of rebels who had escaped themselves in a mosque sallied out, and were either killed or taken. The result of action was that Ali Musaliar, an important rebel, was captured. Our casualties, presumably. were (Dorsets) one killed and four wounded

CAPTURE OF ALI MUSALIAR AND 40 LEADERS.

FIGHTING LASTS FOR SEVERAL HOURS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALICUT, Sept. 3.

The fight at Tirurangadi resulting in the capture of Ali Musaliar and 40 others lasted several hours. Abour 40 Moplahs are reported to have been killed while two soldiers are alleged to have been killed and 4 wounded. The Moplahs were said to be using sharp spikes and explosive materials. A number of guns, knives, swords and other weapon ...have been captured. Prisoners were brought to Tirur the base of military operations. In Tanur another Musaliar and few others have been arrested and taken to Tirur.

MR. GANDHI AT CALCUTTA

REGRET AT MOPLAH'S ACTION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, Sept. 2.

Addressing a mass meeting at Chittagong yesterday. Mr. Gandhi exhorted the audience, composed mainly of the Mahomedans, to be perfectly non-violent. He regretted the action of Moplahs who, he said, had gone mad and whose actions would neither advance the cause of Swaraj, nor of the Khilafat. In conclusion Mr. Gandhi made a fervent appeal for the use of Swadeshi cloth, and promised Swaraj by the 1st

SIMLA, Sept. 2.

The report of the Repressive Laws Committee has been signed today. It is understood recommendations are unanimous and urge the repeal of practically all measures referred to it with minor reservations.

THE FISCAL COMMISSION.

REFORTED PERSONEL.

"The Tribune" of Lahore writes:—

Out of seven Indians who are to be appointed members of the Fiscal Commission. we understand that the following will be asked to serve in addition to Sir Ibrahim Rahimtullah who will be the Chairman, as already announced:—Sir Vithaldas Thackersey, Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas, Mr. Manohar Lal and Mr. Sheshagiri Iyer. Sir Ibrahim Rahimtullah is shortly expected at Simla in connection with the preliminary arrangements.

Mr. Hamid Evaz Raza, Secretary, Khilafat Committee, Phaphund, District Etawah, was served with a notice to show cause why he should not execute a bond for Rs 500 with two securities of Rs 250 each for his good behaviour for one year. On his refusing to execute the bond he was arrested. He was sentenced to one year's simple imprisonment.

October, if the programme of Swadeshi was carried out effectively.

QUIET AT OTTAPALAM.

Mr. Keshav Menon. Secretary, Kerala Congress Committe wires from Calicut under date Sept. 2:—

Messrs. Prakasham and Venkataramier have reached Calicut from Ottapalam this morning and are likely to remain there for a couple of days. Ottapalam together with its neighbourhood is quiet.

ECONOMIC EFFECT IN MANIFESTATION

SOME MORE ARRESTS MADE.

CALICUT, Sept. 1.

Economic effects of the rebellion are making themselves felt. Harvesting of firt or "Kanni" crop will be almot out of question in many portions of Ernad and Walluvanad and fears are also entertained that operations for second or "Makaram" crop will be impracticable owing to the wholesale paralysis of labour. Several merchants and traders, mostly Moplahs have large outstandings in Ernad and Walluvanad and it is feared much of these may have to be written off. Likelihood of insolvencies is apprehended. H.M.S. Comus left Calicut yesterday. Seven more arrests were made at Tirur yesterday. There appears to have been fighting in Tirurangadi last evening.

LIBERAL POLITICS.

COMPACT WITH BUREAUCRACY

(BY LALA LAJPAL RAI.)

The U. P. Liberal Conference held at Lucknow on August the 6th has not received that much attention as it deserved by reason of the importance of the men who attended it. I have read the speeches and the proceedngs with much interest and have been amused by the comments made on it in the Anglo-Indian press. The Lahore Anglo-Indian daily remarks that "Nothing could be less inspiring than the Liberal Conference of the United Provinces which has just been holding its sessions at Lucknow. Liberals are little more than feeble echoes of the extremists and frequently the difference is that subsisting between Tweedledum and Tweedledee." This certainly is very unkind specially after the declaration of the Hon. Mr. Shastri, the high priest of that party, that there was nothing common between the Liberals and the Non-co-operators either in aim or in methods. The "Civil and Military Gazette" has spoken even more unkindly of the Hon. Mr. Shastri's speeches in England and in the Imperial Conference, in its article on "India and the Empire," published in it's issue of the 12th instant. In this article the writer characterizes Mr. Shastri's attitude "on the subject of the Indians' status in the Empire in general and their position in the Union of South Africa in particular" as "aggressive" and "not a little ungracious and tactless." "Mr. Shastri's speeches and interview," says the "Gazette," "appeared to be worded with a view to exciting the applause of the gallery in India. His head seems to have been a little turned by his exalted errand and instead of conducting himself with a becoming modesty in the company of veteran statesmen of the Empire. . . . he seemed to think that he had a moral right to lecture all and sundry and patronize the audiences of the Guild Hall and the Mansion House and presumably, the Conference Chamber, as though he was addressing his political sympathisers in Bombay or Calcutta." I have quoted the remarks not because I attach any weight to what the "Civil and Military Gazette" writes or thinks, or for the matter of that what any Anglo-Indian paper writes or thinks, but because I am sorry for my 'Liberal' friends who have brought all this on their devoted heads by-seeking an unholy alliance with them about the Government of their country. It is as impossible for an Anglo-Indian to place himself in the position of a patriotic Indian as it is for a zebra to change the colour of his stripes. In their eyes it is the height of impertinence for any Indian to speak out his mind in the presence of the "veteran statesmen of the Empire." These latter are gods before whom every Indian must bend his knees, bow his head and be mum. The writer forgets that there are numbers of Indians in this country who have seen and studied these 'veteran statesmen' and others of the modern world in their homelands, have heard them speaking in Parliaments and Conferences and Congresses, and have had more opportunities of judging of their intellectual and moral worth, than perhaps he himself could claim. There was a time when the assumption that every European in office, in India or in Europe, was superior to the best of Indians both in intellect and in morals, held supreme sway over the minds of Indians. That time is gone. While we have no hesitation in acknowledging the merits of European thinkers, writers and speakers and administrators, as they are, we are under no delusion as to their being super-men or even so superior as to demand from us such a homage as is reserved for gods or supermen. Howevermuch we may differ from the Hon. Mr. Shastri in politics, we have no hesitation in saying that in morals, in character, in intelligence and in the depth of his patriotism he is inferior to none of "the veteran statesmen of the Empire" whom he met either at the Conference or at the Mansion House or at the Guild Hall, not excepting even the Prime Minister and General Smuts. Mr. Shastri has never stained his public life by any of the doubtful transactions which several of those statesmen have had to their credit at some stage of their life. Of course, no man is perfect or infallible, and moreover, statesmanship in modern Europe has nothing to do with morals or character; but the criticism of the "Civil and Military Gazette" is entirely out of place. I do not share the views of the Anglo-Indian and the Moderate press as to the results achieved by the Hon. Mr. Shastri and the Maharao of Cutch, but I have no hesitation in saying that Mr. Shastri would have been false to his country if he had been less outspoken in his utterances. As it stands he did not go far enough and was entirely wrong in singing the praises of the Empire and givng out that India was proud of its position in the Empire, but to say that he was "aggressive" or "ungracious" or "tactless is the height of absurdity.

Liberals' Denial of repression.

The simple truth is that the Moderates having practically made a sort of compact with the Government, the Anglo-Indian press is determined to expect and exact the proverbial pound of flesh. The proceedings of the U. P. Liberal Conference, however, show that the Liberals are not minded entirely to satisfy the demand of their friends in the Anglo-Indian press. The speeches made on the Punjab wrongs and on the inadequacy and the farcical character of the Reforms are sufficiently outspoken and good, though I wish the President had not sung the praises so fulsomely and had been more courageous in condemning the repression resorted to in his Provinces. To me there can be nothing more disappointing than that an educated Indian of the position of Munshi Narayan Prasad Asthana should have considered his Provinces "fortunate" in having "a statesman with sympathy and imagination" as his present Governor!! That Sir H. Lutler is a "statesman," I admit. That he is a very clever "statesman" may also be granted, but that he is possessed of "sympathy and imagination," I deny. Is it true that the Provinces "have enjoyed peace and contentment?" If so, what about the rioting and shooting that his been going on in both the provinces of Agra and Oudh? What of the numerous Non-co-operators in jail? What of the frequent cases under Sections 144, 107 and 108 of the Criminal Procedure Code? Munshi Narayan Prasad Asthana probably thinks that all this is a proof of "peace and contentment." If so, we shall have to include his name also among the list of "statesmen," in whose dictionary, words bear meanings different from those in ordinary dictionaries. My old and esteemed friend, the Hon. Mr. C. Y. Chintamani, has already qualified himself for that role. He "has emphatically denied that the policy that the Government of the United Provinces had followed could be described in comprehensive terms as a policy of repression." Mr. Chintamani being a member of that Government could not but make that denial, and as a newly-fledged "statesman" he has made a promising beginning. He is a master of phrases and has of late been distinguishing himself by coining some very trite phrases about the Non-co-operators. He is an "official Liberal," and as such, bound to tread in the footsteps of John Morley, Lloyd George and Churchill. These great Liberals never followed a "policy of repression" either in India or in Ireland, although Mr. Chintamani, the once Editor of the "Leader," thought so differently. Of course there is no repression in suspending an official who had been supporting a Non-co-operator son and in threatening him with dismissal unless he regained his son's soul for the Government. Similarly there has been no repression in Pratapgarh Rai Barelli, Aligarh, Mathura and other places where scores have been sent to jail for the sin of being Non-co-operators. In 1907, 1908, 1909 and 1910, Mr. John Morley did not pursue a policy of repression, though the then Editor of the "Leader" thought otherwise. So, no one outside the Government circles need take Mr. Chintamani's pronouncements seriously as long as he holds office. He lives in an atmosphere where repression can not be felt or seen, but Mr. Narayan Prasad Asthana does not at present occupy that position, and his wholesale praise of the Government of the United Provinces was not only out of place but supplies a good proof of my statement that the Liberals have become a part and parcel of the bureaucracy.

Liberal's conduct in consistent with Professions.

Mr. Narayan Prasad Asthana has done well in pointing out the farcical nature of the Reforms, but does he really believe that his condemnation of the costliness of this Administration is likely to carry any weight in face of the policy of his party in insisting (in practice) on making it even more costly? With what consistency can he say that the costliness of the Imperial service is "mainly due to the employment of oversea agency," when his party insists on the Indians in that service drawing the same salaries as the Europeans? The way to reduce the European agency and their salaries is not made clear by the ministers' insistence on receiving Rs. 5,000 a month. Let Mr. Asthana cease to plead for the Indianization of the services on the ground that it is economic to do so. Let him boldly stand on the right that the oversea agency has no place in India, that it is not needed, and that it should go. The Indian Government then would fix the salaries of the Indian services on an Indian basis.

The Liberals have made an advance in demanding immediate Provincial autonomy and immediate dyarchy in the Central Government, but they are not likely to get it unless they make common cause with the Non-co-operators in boycotting the Government, and refusing to co-operate with the Government on the present terms. Pandit Kishan Prasad, Kaul, made an excellent speech on the Punjab wrongs, but it is merely repeating a "parrot cry," (as the "Civil and Military Gazette" says) if the Moderates will not make the redress of those wrongs a condition precedent to their co-operating with the Government. Their conduct is inconsistent with their professions. Their demands for the removal of the offending Punjab officials have not been heeded to by the Government. The least they could do, even if they were opposed to the whole of the Non-co-operation programme of the Congress, was to refuse active co-operation with the Government unless this much was done. In this respect the conduct of the Punjab Nationalist leader who is now in office has been even more glaringly inconsistent with his pre-office professions. Lala Harkishen Lal in no uncertain terms condemned the lenient and Satyayrahi recommendations of the Congress Sub-Committee about these officials, but when a Ministership was offered to him he accepted it without imposing any conditions about the punishment of those officials. Purged of the sins of an "agitator" he has, in the course of six months evolved into a "statesman."

Non-Cooperation

The most disappointing and the most painful part of Mr. Asthana's address is the one in which he deals with Non-co-operation. It is full of fundamental fallacies, misstatements and misconceptions. I will point out a few.

Says Mr. Asthana:—

"That the prevailing discontent is due more to economic causes than to purely political. . . . . Had it not been for the acute distress caused by the rise in prices, by the dearness of food grains and cloth, the two prime necessities of life, we would not have heard of agrarian riots amongst us. The average ryot requires no more than cheap grain and cheap cloth, and if these necessities are within his means and within his reach, he cares but little for your political doctrines and systems of Government. It follows, therefore, that the first duty of a Government which wishes to keep its people in a state of peace and contentment is to help them in securing these two things. We know that the great war has left as its legacy a great upheaval among he labouring classes, and high prices. . . . . But it appears to me that we have been moving in a vicious circle. Prices have risen, and therefore wages have risen, and because the wages have risen the prices are rising still higher. It is the duty of the Government to break this vicious circle and to promote national economy by conserving the resources of the country."

This statement discloses a deplorable lack of understanding of economic-cum-political problem. May I ask on what principles have the Moderates chosen to co-operate with and sing the praises of the Government (and the Empire) which has, according to the President of the United Provinces Liberal Conference, failed in its "first duty" towards the people of the country? Secondly, cannot the President see that the "vicious circle" of which he complains so bitterly is an inevitable result of the system of Government of which he and his colleagues are so fond?

'Vicious Circle"

Even the free nations of Europe and America are helpless to "break" this vicious circle because their system of Government and their Industrial life is an effectual hindrance in the way. I wish the President had told us how the Government could conserve the resources of the country to break this vicious circle. The Moderates favour the industrial development of the country on European lines and the "vicious circle" is the natural off-spring of that system. An Imperial system based on capitalistic principles managed by highly paid officials who live on plane mountains higher than that of the common people, cannot break the "vicious circle." The Moderate leaders who have joined the Government have only strengthened the hands of the bureaucracy by becoming part and parcel of them. People who chatter day and night of "Constitutional" means should not talk of breaking the "vicious circle." You cannot break this circle without revolutionary propaganda and revolutionary methods, peaceful or otherwise. You cannot dispossess those in possession by your so-called constitutional methods, and as long as they are in possession you cannot break this "vicious circle" as this vicious circle is the life and soul of the system which has placed them in possession. You cannot eat the cake and have it also. The Moderates have come into power by the system which is the parent of the "vicious circle." The moment they sincerely try to break this circle, they would be broken themselves.

An Infamous Doctrine.

Then, it is a great pity that by using this language the President should have strengthened the infamous doctrine that "the ryot requires no more than cheap grain and cheap cloth, and if these necessaties are within his means he cares little for your political doctrines and system of Government." This is introducing another vicious circle. No Government unless it represents the will of the common people can secure the ryot cheap grain and cheap cloth. "Political doctrines and systems of Government," which Mr. Asthana pretends to despise, have a great deal to do with "cheap grain and cheap cloth." Secondly, it is an immoral doctrine and unworthy of a "Liberal" to endorse it that a ryot requires no more than that. It is the time-honoured vicious doctrine of the Imperialist who wants to impose his rule on the masses by keeping them in "peace and contentment." The ryot requiries all which Mr. Asthana requires for his happiness and for the fullest development of the best in him, and he wants a Government that will secure him the ways and means of that. Cheap food and cheap clothing should not be and are not the objects of his life. The vicious circle which has favoured the classes has deprived him even of that. The Government of the classes which Mr. Asthana supports and admires perpetuates that system. This is as much political as economic. It is a futile attempt to separate the two. The two are inseparable. Your political system tells on your economic life and vice versa.

A wrong Use of History.

Further on Mr. Asthana says:—

"In my opinion this Non-co-operation movement is an exotic plant. Indians have by tradition been a peaceful people, always co-operating with their Government in maintaining order and in developing peaceful arts and associations. In the history of India at no time do we find a whole people non-co-operating with their Government or resorting to passive resistance to achieve a particular object."

Here again I am constrained to say that Mr. Asthana has made a wrong use of his history. The Hindus are by tradition a nation of non-co-operators. Rightly or wrongly, non-co-operation is the basic principle of their system of life and they have fully applied it for political purposes in their past history. Had it not been for non-co-operation there would be no Hindus in this country to-day. It is a libel on the Indian people to maintain that the Indians are so peaceful as to tolerate any kind of Government. This is absolutely untrue and we do not find the statement corroborated by history. The Hindus have in the past never tolerated a bad, an unjust and a tyranical Government for a, long time, and they have never co-operated with such Governments "in maintaining law and order and in developing peaceful arts and associations." To say so of the Muslims is also a libel. To maintain that proposition is to establish a premium on bad Government. I deny that Non-co-operation is an "exotic plant" and maintain that it is the most natural thing for an Indian to do. The last sentence in this extract is deliciously lawyer-like. It means nothing. What does Mr. Asthana mean by "a whole people?" If the expression means a majority of the people, then his statement is wrong. If his statement implies an absolute unanimity on the part of a people at any particular time for any particular action then that is an impossibility, India, like other countries, has always had her moderates and liberals, her loyalists and self-seekers. I admit that Non-co-operation is fraught with dangers, but then life itself is full of dangers. A life without dangers is a negation of life. It is a mere existence. Mr. Asthana's statements about violence are also a "parrot-like" repetition of the Anglo-Indian cry. The statement about wide-spread disorders and anarchy is absolutely untrue. Its non-existence is disproved by Mr. Chintamani's statement about repression. I do not deny that there have stray cases of violence. I not deny that in one or two places it may have taken the shape of organized violence, but the Non-co-operation movement is not responsible for it. In any case, we are less responsible for it than the Government of the Unitted Provinces and Mr. Chintamaniare for the acts of their officers. These latter are the servants of the Government and as such, morally and regally bound to obey its orders. If the Government does not punish them for disobedience and for going against their policy and in almost every way connives at their acts and upholds them in their conduct, then surely they take the responsibility of their acts. This can not be said about the leaders of the Non-co-operation movement. The authority of the latter is only moral and if they are unable to exact absolute obedience from every one of their fellow Non-co-operators, they are not to be blamed. Mr. Asthana knows what is going on in the rest of the world. If he compares that with the happenings in India he will find that all this parrot-like cry about violence and anarchy as the result of Non-co-operation movement is an absurd exaggeration of the actual situation. We do not mind it when it comes it from the Anglo-Indian Imperialists, as with them the art of Government is the art of lying, but it pains me very much when it comes from our own brothers and friends.

'Racial Hatred"

Then again the tendency to condemn a doctrine because it might lead to disorders and what my friends call "lawlessness" is itself a vicious habit which is the remnant of the slave mentality which this Government has been so mightily successful in creating in this country. Suppose a Government armed with the most deadly weapons which the genius of man could invent, possessed of all the wealth of the world, supported by a vast army refuses to change laws which are subversive of the rights and liberties of the subjects and refuses to listen to "constitutional" agitation, are the people to sit silent, refusing to have recourse to methods which may lead to some violence and some lawlessness? On that assumption any progress would be impossible. Mr. Asthana wants to frighten the Non-co-operation leaders by pointing out to them the possibility of "their own authority being challenged." I may assure him that the Non-co-operation leaders do not desire that their authority be perpetuated. They possess no auhority which does not emanate from the people's appreciation of their views and services. They will be false to their own souls if they hesitate to preach a doctrine which they believe to be true by fear of such teaching leading to a repudiation of their authority. I hope when that day comes they shall have the good sense to retire to private life rather than make a bid for the help of the foreign bureaucracy to perpetuate their authority and to establish Aman Sabhas and Liberal Leagues to keep them in power.

As to the charge of "racial hatred," it is as untrue as mischievous. If seeking Swaraj and substitution of Indians for Europeans in the Government of the country, condemning the Military and fiscal policies of the Government, working for the development of Indian industries by boycotting foreign manufactures, is spreading racial hatred, then we plead guilty to the charge, adding that the moderate leaders showed us the way. The one thing "original" which the Non-co-operators have introduced in the political life of the country is "the speaking of truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth" without fear and favour, and without those qualifying adjectives and adverbs which reduce the truth to a half truth and almost to a lie. It may be that we are blunt people and say things rather bluntly, refusing to profit from the polished ways of Morleys, Bryces, Lloyd Georges and Churchills. The present Liberals and their predecessors in the the profession have been saying the same things for the last 50 years, but the country did not take them seriously, nor did the Government because they did nothing to educate the masses and win their support. Now that the masses have joined the movement they have been alarmed, and are moving earth and heaven to prove us in the wrong.

A Caricature of Mr. Gandhi's Ideals

Mr. Asthana has carricatured Mahatma Gandhi's ideals by picturing an India of his desires, in the following terms:—

"Imagine India without machinery, railways, telegraphs and electricity; without any duly constituted Government; without Universities or schools fitted with modern appliances; without medical practitioners or medical schools, each man revolving his own charkha and tilling his own land hardly finding time for intellectual culture; in fine, a country where 'Kase ra' ba' kase kare na bashad.'"

Any one who has heard Mr. Gandhi and read his writings will say that the picture drawn by Mr. Asthana is not a true one, but in any case an India like that would be an India infinitely better than the India of to-day. The truth is that Mr. Asthana and his fellow Liberals do not realize the humiliation of their present position. It is unfortunate that they should have persuaded themselves to believe that for their country the way to greatness lies through slavery, imitation and thraldom. Let Mr. Asthana remember that salvation will come from within and not from without.

RIOTERS' APPEALS DISMISSED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, Sept. 1.

The Judicial Commissioner to-day dismissed the appeals against the conviction of Suraj Bali who was sentenced to 8 years and two others who were sentenced to six years each, by the Additional Sessions Judge for the offences of rioting and endangering human life in a train in motion during the O. and R. Railway strike in February last. The Judge ordered reduction by one year of the sentence on each accused.

of the Assembly and that an election to fill it would shortly be held.

In explaining the position of the Deputy President he said:—I have received intimation from several quarters that the position of the Deputy President has not yet been clearly defined. At the beginning of the first session of the Assembly I received similar communications chiefly in the form of requests for information regarding the freedom of this officer in debate. I declined at that time to give a peremptory ruling and to that decision I still adhere, but I may repeat here what I said then to several enquirers, that the Assembly must create its own precedents and traditions to establish and to protect the impartiality of the Chair and that pending the evolutions of these traditions we can rely upon the individual discretion of the Deputy President himself. I am revealing no inviolable secret when I say that such was the unwritten understanding on which our first Deputy-President acted. I take this opportunity, while regretting his absence from this Chamber and while congratulating him on his accession to the high office, of bearing my witness to his unfailing observance of it.

I should not however do justice to the requests which I have received if I were to leave the matter there. It has been suggested to me from more sources than one that the analogy of the House of Commons, if properly followed, would compel the Assembly to forbid the Deputy-President to take any part whatsoever in the ordinary debate and thus preserve the impartiality of his official character In point of fact the House of Commons has neither a rule, nor a standing order, which forbids the Deputy Speaker, better known as the Chairman of Committee or the Chairman of Ways and Means, to take part in the debate, but the conditions of his office and the established tradition of the House effectively precludes him from doing so. The Assembly has hitherto shown a desire to create sound traditions of its own, to follow the House of Commons wherever possible, but to refuse slavishly to imitate British Parliamentary tradition, where it does not conform to Indian needs. This is a whole some Swadeshi in Parliamentary procedure

DEPUTY SPEAKER AND DEPUTY PRESIDENT.

In the matter of the analogy between the Deputy Speaker and the Deputy-President I would suggest to the Assembly the desirability of following faithfully the spirit of Westminster but of modifying to its own needs the letter of the House of Commons practice. To illustrate the contrast between the two positions I must enter upon a description of the office of Deputy-Speaker in the House of Commons, which is somewhat long in form—for its length I apologise in advance. At Westminster, the Chairman of Committees is selected by the Government. Here he is the choice of the Chamber itself. At Westminster he actually presided over the House in a busy session for at least twice as many hours as the Speaker himself. Here he can never be called upon to eclipse the President in the number of hours during which he occupies the chair. At Westminster when not presiding over the deliberations of the House (in committee), he is fully engaged in supervising private bill. legislation for which he is responsible as chairman of the committee on unopposed bills. Here no such function can be assigned to the Deputy-President, for the procedure known as Private Bill Legislation does not exist. At Westminster finally, as Chairman of the Court of Referees the Deputy Speaker discharges another important function for which there is no Indian parallel. The Assembly will thus realise that the position of the Deputy Speaker is very onerous, that, indeed, he is the hardest-worked functionary in the House of Commons and that even if he wished and even if tradition permitted, he would he precluded from any active share in current controversy by the weight of his official duties. The contrast between Westminster and Simla is now, I hope, clear.

EVOLUNON OF ITS PRACTICE.

It is for this Assembly to evolve its own practice and to establish its own institutions for the discharge of its duties as a legislative body. Your Deputy-President carries upon his shoulders the obligation to uphold the even-handed impartiality of the Chair even when he is not himself the occupant of it. That obligation is laid upon him by the will of his colleagues when they elect him and it should be ever his first care to observe it. It must be obvious to those who survey his position that he does not and cannot enjoy perfect freedom to take part in the debate. But the fact of his election singles him out from the ranks of the Assembly as one—one among many perhaps whose qualities inevitably give him eminense in some sense. Therefore, he is to be regarded as a leading personality whose voice the Assembly would not willingly silence.

NO SHACKLE TO HIS DISCRETION.

Hence my reluctance to shackle his discretion by any iron rule, and as I do not propose to anticipate the remote and improbable occasion of indiscreet action on his part, I will not even adumbrate the appropriate action of the Chair or of the Assembly in that even. At the same time I will not conceal from this House the conviction which is growing in my mind that in the not very distant future it may be found desirable to augment the actual duties of the Deputy-Pesident and to place in his charge some of the functions which naturally fall to officers directly responsible to a legislative chamber. By this means his office would grow in importance and the Assembly would gain by securing greater control over the whole field of its work to those—and I have direct evidence that they are not a few—who are somewhat perplexed by the contrast between the intrinsic importance of the Deputy's office and of its present appearance as that of a sinecure. I would say that many great results have emerged from lesser origins and that solvitor ambulando.

MADRAS LABOUR.

APPEAL TO BOMBAY FOR HELP

To THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—The workmen of the Buckingham and Carnatic Mills have been locked out and they are without employment for the past hundred days. In spite of the fact that a split has been partially effected by playing upon caste feelings—the major portion of the Adi-Dravida workmen have not turned black legs. Even after such a long time they have not yet been starved into submission. A Relief Fund has been opened for the strikes and about 500 to 1,000 men are being fed at the Union premises. The workers of the above Mills and their sympathisers will feel grateful to any one who would help them now in this just fight that they are waging against being exploited by the capitalists of those Mills.

Moneys may be sent to the Vice-President V. O. Chakkarai, of the Madras Labour Union, Chinna Reddy Street, Egmore, Madras.

All amounts sent to Mr. Chakkarai from Bombay will be acknowledged in the "Bombay Chronicle."—Yours, etc.,

E. L. IYER.

BOMBAY LABOUR TROUBLES.

G. I. P. RY. WORKMEN'S RESOLVE.

Yesterday at 7 p.m. about eight thousand workmen of the G. I. P. Railway and the Matunga Railway Workshops held a meeting at the Workmen's Institute, Poibawdi, when they were addressed by Mr. Ginwalla. The main item for discussion, it was stated, was whether or not the workmen of the G. I. P. Railway Workshop who have been on strike for nearly a fortnight, should be financially helped by the workmen of respective Railway Workshops in the city. What the workmen decided was, it appears, that their brethren on strike should be paid their half wages as long as they are firm not to resume their work. The contributions of the workmen will be collected by their Labour Union. It is understood no workman will be compelled to contribute his quota to the fund. The workmen are very firm in their demands and so long as they are not properly attended to, they will continue remaining on strike.

PATHAN BRAVADOES.

From further enquiries made, it appears that four Pathans of the G. I. P. Railway Workshop who are apparently not in sympathy with their brethren, yesterday at 5-30 p.m. as soon as they came out of the Workshop gates with clasp knives hidden in their garments, enquired of the strikers with regard to the place of their meeting. Thereafter, the Pathans went to the spot of the meeting and on entering the hall two of them struck two strikers with the knives, as a result of which they received minor injuries. On account of the incident great sensation was created among the workmen.

MILLS STRIKE.

The workmen of the Zenith and Century Mills are still holding out.

"THE REVOLT OF PASSIVITY."

AN ENGLISH VIEW OF NON-COOPERATION.

"The Nation and the Athenæum" writes:—Mr. Gandhi is a figure of such significance that even the remoteness, mental and physical, of India cannot obscure him. One realizes that he is in India what Tolstoy was in Russia, a personality which incarnates the characteristic spiritual vision of his race. His tactics may seem exasperating to our Western minds, and they almost certainly set a baffling problem for the Indian administration but the peculiarity of them is that they are evidently much more than tactics. A Western politician, when he invents tactics, simply adapts means to ends on the plane of everyday reality. There is a certain similarity between the methods of Sinn Fein and those of the Indian Non-Cooperators, but Irishmen are Westerners like the rest of us, and there is no spiritual mystery about their methods.

On the surface, perhaps, Mr. Gandhi's notion of the way to achieve "Swaraj" looks as realistic as the earlier tactics of Sinn Fein. One proclaims in principle a boycott of Anglo-Indians and of the whole official machine. In particular, one abstains from elections. The coolies are recalled from the Assam plantations. Above all, no English goods, and especially no Lancashire goods, must be purchased. Students are withdrawn from all the official or Westernizing colleges Then, since Indians must have cotton goods, and the native mills are not numerous enough to supply them, the students and other enthusiasts are bidden to provide themselves with spinning-wheels, and from the working of this primitive hand tool, plied by amateurs and boys, India is exhorted to expect her freedom. Mr. Gandhi's predictions are sanguine. He has positively said that complete success is possible by October, and that the movement will have failed unless full "Swaraj" is attained by the last day of the present year. Imperialism is we think, a tougher force than he realizes But his conception is reasonable enough as a tactic. The root of all modern Imperialism is economic, and if the Indian market were to disappear beyond hope of recovery, there certainly might be a disposition to consider whether we need delay longer in conceding the full Dominion status. For our part we have no belief in the method of slow and gradual concessions when once a nation is really roused to demand the instant satisfaction of its claim.

But there is a disquieting aspect in this Indian movement. Rabindranath Tagore, fresh from interpreting the East to Europe, has drawn attention to it. He has, he says, brought himself only with great reluctance to dissent from the method of non-co-operation. He is an Indian patriot, and he gave up his knighthood as his own form of protesting against our brutalities in the Punjab. But he is out of sympathy with the passivity of Mr. Gandhi's attitude. This pride in being able to dispense with everything, even with the gifts of Western science, is certainly Oriental. But it is unconstructive and negative. It is a lapse into the instinctive Buddhism of the East. The Oriental attains to spiritual perfection and to a vision of the Infinite by denying and renouncing everything. All particular things, are discarded, and the Infinite is, therefore, a mere emptiness and abstraction. The higher spirits may gain a personal sublimity in the process, but in the mass this attitude tends only to vacuity, to apathy, and to lethargy. The Western mind seeks its Infinite in the system of particular things. We all know its foible. It pursues the particulars and misses the system. It is earthbound, but it is busy, interested, active. The ideal of men like Tagore is rather a synthesis of the two attitudes. The East must learn to seek the Infinite in the fullness and harmony and system of particular things, but it must avoid our vulgar habit of immersing ourselves in them till we lose all vision of the whole.

It is easy to apply this metaphysics to the particular case. To recur to our comparison with Sinn Fein. The Irish movement had its own method of emancipating the Irish consumer and producer from the English middleman. It fostered the farmers' co-operative organization. In so doing it advanced from a rather primitive economic system to an evidently higher one, from wasteful individualism to co-ordinated, economic progress with defence against doing, it combined foreign exploitation. When the Indian Non-co-operator substitutes the primeval spinning-wheel for the steamdriven "jenny" of Lancashire, he is attempting to beat a higher form of production by a lower. One need not be blind to the ugliness of the industrial system to realize that mass production by machinery means an immense economy of human effort.

The attempt is pitiable, and even ludicrous, when young men who should be studying at a University are invited to do with their hands and feet, in weeks of dull toil what a machine would do as well in an hour. Does India really mean to turn her back on science and technical achievement? To our thinking, the road to Swaraj, to the emancipation of India from foreign exploitation, lies very largely in the study of Western technology. We should have thought that a constructive patriot instead of setting these students to the sorry and hopeless task of vieing with machinery would have bidden them work with redoubled zeal to master engineering, or chemistry, or the science of agdiculture.

That advice is not English materialism Mr. Gandhi's spinning tactics are realistic economic, even materialistic. But it is a resourceless, primitive materialism. If Mr Gandhi would do for the wasteful, unproductive, primeval agriculture of India what Mr. Russell has done for the agriculture of Ireland he would reach his goal more surely, if also slowly. It would be the work of a generation and not of a few months. But at the end of it the whole standard of life, the entire habits of thought of the Indian peasantry, would be raised with the fertility of the soil itself. If in doing this he could keep at arm's length the native exploiter and create a truly social system of production (as Irishmen are doing), he would make a moral, as well as an economic, advance. The last thing one wants to see acclimatized in the East is our grasping, gain-loving mentality and its commercial and predatory habits. But at the risk of seeming insular, we do not like to see the East turning its back on Western science. To go no higher and no further, we are sure that without it the horror of over-population in India and in China can never be met. To take higher ground, we are equally sure that such a man as Sir J. C. Bose, with his fascinating revelations about plant life, has done more to realize the Infinite than all the negations of all the fakirs.

We should be sorry to seem to preach to Indians, however, and to leave our own offences unnoticed. If they are being driven into fanaticism which strikes us as deplorable, not merely because it is anti-British, but because it is unconstructive, the goad to this folly came from us. It was the brutalities and insults of the O'Dwyers and the Dyers which shook the balance of a movement which had and will have again, better possibilities. It is because some of our officials and soldiers made Indians feel that our yoke is inconsistent with elementary self-respect, that they cast about them for any means of emancipation that might yield its results in a few months. Nor can we forget the provocations of our Turkish policy. What Indians specially resent, about it is that against a people with an Oriental religion we back Greek Imperialism, simply because it is nominally Christian. Our own personal view, based upon a fairly close experience, is that, on the average, the morals of the Eastern Christian, whether in public or in private life, are no higher than those of the Moslem. His religion has no relation whatever to conduct. It is partly an authorized magic, partly a nationalist cult, but it is wholly unethical. The Eastern Christians are frequently, and have been recently, guilty, when they get the chance, of massacre on a horrible scale. The instinctive partisanship which sides with an Eastern race because it is Christian is natural, but it dose not stand the test of experience, and it is rightly calculated to turn the rest of the East against us. We have a duty to protect all suffering minorities, and that duty our Government, in the case of the Armenians, has shamefully neglected But to turn from this to the promotion of racial or religious wars of conquest is an error of temper which is costing us dear in India. Until we insist on peace in Turkey, on terms that are fair to Turks as well as to Greeks. India will reflect in her undest the faciilties of her people.

SHORT CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

OUR short Advertisement Columns are specially meant for the benefit and convenience of our readers. Accordingly the rates have been fixed very low to enable private individuals to make extensive use of them for all practical purposes and thereby save a lot of worry and trouble.

An Everyday Necessity. IF you want a clerk, an engineer, a doctor, a legal adviser, a secretary, a cook or a khitmutgar just advertise in a few short lines for a few days and you will be able to make your selection from a wide field in a very short time without subjecting yourself to obligation to other people.

The Housing Problem. IF you want a room, apartment, flat or a house the classified short advertisement column will help you to secure one without difficulty similarly those who have any such to spare can as well secure tenants or boarders through advertising what they have to offer.

Your Own Master. IF you desire not to disclose your identity you should advertise through our "Box" system which is specially meant to help business without necessitating the advertiser to unavoidable onslaughts from middle-men and interlopers.

No Middlemen MANY gentlemen are averse to appear in print in advertisements: traders and merchants sometime use the "Box" system when they do not want to be worried with vexatious enquiries from all possible quarters but who want to know the parties themselves and make a free selection uninfluenced by any consideration.

Special service. THE replies to Box advertisements received are all sorted out in our office and despatched daily at our own cost but those who desire special deliveries should arrange with the office for the special service on payment of a small charge which is a very nominal sum or arrange to obtain to receive the replies direct from the "Chronicle" office.

As Interesting as News. THE classified short advertisements have in themselves an importance which equal the interest taken for the news columns. While the news keep you informed of the affairs of the world, the short advertisement columns afford you an opportunity to pick up and secure things for your everyday life to your advantage—and who knows not—at a bargain price as well? There is nothing like publicity.

Advantages. IN these days of pre-occupation, and struggle for life people can ill afford to wait and waste time for getting informations re their particular subject of interest. Competition is so keen and the struggle for existence so widespread that we all want things handy and cannot afford to wait on the sweet will or convenience of others. This is a necessity. To disseminate such information public should make a very liberal use of our short advertisement columns for any information they want and we assure them that such advertisements will always appear in their proper places.

GODREJ'S TOILET SOAPS.

Guaranteed Perfectly Pure and Free From Animal Fats

Made accordi g to the Latest practice for High Class Soaps.

Expert Opinions:—

OFFICE OF THE CHEMICAL ANALYSER TO GOVERNMENT,
Bombay, 26 September 1914.

Having made a careful and complete analysis of a cake of Toilet Soap sent to me by Mr. A. B. Godrej, I am of the opinion that it is a high grade article which satisfies to the full all tests applied to it.

It is a superfatted Soap peculiarly adapted for Toilet purposes and the oil present is entirely of vegetable origin. It is pleasent and economical in use lathers freely and contains a faint but elegant perfume. It is practically free from any uncombined alkali and thus is suitable for use on the most delicate skins.

(Sd.) W. H. DICKINSON M. B., F. I. C.
MAJOR, I. M. S.,
Chemical Analyser to Government
Bombay, 21st August 1914.

I have carefully analysed a sample of Soap submitted by Mr. A. B. Godrej and find it to be a carefully saponified product of purely vegetable oils containing no free alkali. The Soap lathers readily, has excellent cleansing properties and will be economical in use. It is especially to be recommended for delicate skins on account of its freedom from all harmful or irritating ingredients.

The Soap is a credit to the skill and care of the manufacturer and in the matter of freedom from alkali and consequent harmlessness to the skin can be very favourably compared with the best English Soaps.

(Sd.) J. ROSS, M. P. S., F, R. M. S.
Analyst,

Most of the inported toilet soaps, including those sold under well-known names, are made from animal fats, derived chiefly from deceased animals, and are weighted with such useless substances as sugar, clay, soda-ash, and bran.

GODREJ'S SOAPS

are absolutely free from any adulteration and therefore last much longer than imported soaps.

"THE REVOLT OF PASSIVITY."

AN ENGLISH VIEW OF NON-COOPERATION.

"The Nation and the Athenaeum" writes:—Mr. Gandhi is a figure of such significance that even the remoteness, mental and physical, of India cannot obscure him. One realizes that he is in India what Tolstoy was in Russia, a personality which incarnates the characteristic spiritual vision of his race. His tactics may seem exasperating to our Western minds, and they most certainly set a baffling problem for the Indian administration but the peculiarity of them is that they are evidently much more than tactics. A Western politician, when he invents tactics, simply adapts means to ends on the plane of everyday reality. There is a certain similarity between the methods of Sinn Fein and those of the Indian Non-Cooperators, but Irishmen are Westerners like the rest of us, and there is no spiritual mystery about their methods.

On the surface, perhaps, Mr. Gandhi's notion of the way to achieve "Swaraj" looks as realistic as the earlier tactics of Sinn Fein. One proclaims in principle a boycott of Anglo-Indians and of the whole official machine. In particular, one abstains from elections. The coolies are recalled from the Assam plantations. Above all, no English goods, and especially no Lancashire goods, must be purchased. Students are withdrawn from all the official or Westernnizing colleges. Then, since Indians must have cotton goods, and the native mills are not numerous enough to supply them, the students and other enthusiasts are bidden to provide themselves with spinning-wheels, and from the working of this primitive hand tool, plied by amateurs and boys, India is exhorted to expect her freedom. Mr. Gandhi's predictions are sanguine. He has positively said that complete success is possible by October, and that the movement will have failed unless full "Swaraj" is attained by the last day of the present year. Imperialism is we think, a tougher force than he realizes. But his conception is reasonable enough as a tactic. The root of all modern Imperialism is economic, and if the Indian market were to disappear beyond hope of recovery, there certainly might be a disposition to consider whether we need delay longer in conceding the full Dominion status. For our part we have no belief in the method of slow and gradual concessions when once a nation is really roused to demand the instant satisfaction of its claim.

But there is a disquieting aspect in this Indian movement. Rabindranath Tagore, fresh from interpreting the East to Europe, has drawn attention to it. He has, he says, brought himself only with great reluctance to dissent from the method of non-co-operation. He is an Indian patriot, and he gave up his knighthood as his own form of protesting against our brutalities in the Punjab. But he is out of sympathy with the passivity of Mr. Gandhi's attitude. This pride in being able to dispense with everything, even with the gifts of Western science, is certainly Oriental. But it is unconstructive and negative. It is a lapse into the instinctive Buddhism of the East. The Oriental attains to spiritual perfection and to a vision of the Infinite by denying and renouncing everything. All particular things, are discarded, and the Infinite is, therefore, a mere emptiness and abstraction. The higher spirits may gain a personal sublimity in the process, but in the mass this attitude tends only to vacancy, to apathy, and to lethargy. The Western mind seeks its Infinite in the system of particular things. We all know its foible. It pursues the particulars and misses the system. It is earthbound, but it is busy, interested, active. The ideal of men like Tagore is rather a synthesis of the two attitudes. The East must learn to seek the Infinite in the fullness and harmony and system of particular things, but it must avoid our vulgar habit of immersing ourselves in them till we lose all vision of the whole.

It is easy to apply this metaphysics to the particular case. To recur to our comparison with Sinn Fein. The Irish movement had its own method of emancipating the Irish consumer and producer from the English middleman. It fostered the farmers' co-operative organization. In so doing it advanced from a rather primitive economic system to an evidently higher one, from wasteful individualism to co-ordinated, economic progress with defence against doing, it combined foreign exploitation. When the Indian Non-co-operator substitutes the primeval spinning-wheel for the steamdriven "jenny" of Lancashire, he is attempting to beat a higher form of production by a lower. One need not be blind to the ugliness of the industrial system to realize that mass production by machinery means an immense economy of human effort.

The attempt is pitiable, and even ludicrous, when young men who should be studying at a University are invited to do with their hands and feet, in weeks of dull toil what a machine would do as well in an hour. Does India really mean to turn her back on science and technical achievement? To our thinking, the road to Swaraj, to the emancipation of India from foreign exploitation, lies very largely in the study of Western technology. We should have thought that a constructive patriot instead of setting these students to the sorry and hopeless task of vieing with machinery would have bidden them work with redoubled zeal to master engineering, or chemistry, or the science of agriculture.

That advice is not English materialism. Mr. Gandhi's spinning tactics are realistic economic, even materialistic. But it is a resourceless, primitive materialism. If Mr. Gandhi would do for the wasteful, unproductive, primeval agriculture of India what Mr. Russell has done for the agriculture of Ireland he would reach his goal more surely, if also slowly. It would be the work of a generation and not of a few months. But at the end of it the whole standard of life, the entire habits of thought of the Indian peasantry, would be raised with the fertility of the soil itself. If in doing this he could keep at arm's length the native exploiter and create a truly social-system of production (as Irishmen are doing), he would make a moral, as well as an economic, advance. The last thing one wants to see acclimatized in the East is our grasping, gain-loving mentality and its commercial and predatory habits. But at the risk of seeming insular, we do not like to see the East turning its back on Western science. To go no higher and no further, we are sure that without it the horror of over-population in India and in China can never be met. To take higher ground, we are equally sure that such a man as Sir J. C. Bose, with his fascinating revelations about plant life, has done more to realize the Infinite than all the negations of all the fakirs.

We should be sorry to seem to preach to Indians, however, and to leave our own offences unnoticed. If they are being driven into fanaticism which strikes us as deplorable, not merely because it is anti-British, but because it is unconstructive, the goad to this folly came from us. It was the brutalities and insults of the O'Dwyers and the Dyers which shook the balance of a movement which had and will have again, better possibilities. It is because some of our officials and soldiers made Indians feel that our yoke is inconsistent with elementary self-respect, that they cast about them for any means of emancipation that might yield its results in a few months. Nor can we forget the provocations of our Turkish policy. What Indians specially resent, about it is that against a people with an Oriental religion we back Greek Imperialism, simply because it is nominally Christian. Our own personal view, based upon a fairly close experience, is that, on the average, the morals of the Eastern Christian, whether in public or in private life, are no higher than those of the Moslem. His religion has no relation whatever to conduct. It is partly an authorized magic, partly a nationalist cult, but it is wholly unethical. The Eastern Christians are frequently, and have been recently, guilty, when they get the chance, of massacre on a horrible scale. The instinctive partisanship which sides with an Eastern race because it is Christian is natural, but it does not stand the test of experience, and it is rightly calculated to turn the rest of the East against us. We have a duty to protect all suffering minorities, and that duty our Government, in the case of the Armenians, has shamefully neglected. But to turn from this to the promotion of racial or religious wars of conquest is an error of temper which is costing us dear in India. Until we insist on peace in Turkey, on terms that are fair to Turks as well as to Greeks, India will reflect in her undest the faciilities of her people.

SHORT CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

OUR short Advertisement Columns are specially meant for the benefit and convenience of our readers. Accordingly the rates have been fixed very low to enable private individuals to make extensive use of them for all practical purposes and thereby save a lot of worry and trouble.

An Everyday Necessity. If you want a clerk, an engineer, a doctor, a legal adviser, a secretary, a cook or a khitmutgar just advertise in a few short lines for a few days and you will be able to make your selection from a wide field in a very short time without subjecting yourself to obligation to other people.

The Housing Problem. If you want a room, apartment, flat or a house the classified advertisement column will help you to secure one without difficulty. Similarly those who have any such to spare can as well secure tenants or boarders through advertising what they have to offer.

Your Own Master. If you desire not to disclose your identity you should advertise through our "Box" system which is specially meant to help those who are hesitating to do business without necessitating the advertiser to unavoidable onslaughts from middle-men and interlopers.

No Middlemen MANY gentlemen are averse to appearing in print in advertisements: traders and merchants sometime use the "Box" system when they do not want to be worried with vexatious enquiries from all possible quarters but who want to know the parties themselves and make a free selection unintluenced by any consideration.

Special Service. THE replies to Box advertisements received are all sorted out in our office and despatched daily at our own cost but those who should desire special deliveries the special arrange with the office for of a special service on payment nominal charge which is a very to receive sum or arrange to obtain the replies direct from the "Chronicle" office.

As Interesting as News. THE classified short advertisements have in themselves an importance which equal the interest taken for the news columns. While the news keep you informed of the affairs of the world, the short advertisement columns afford you an opportunity to pick up and secure things for your everyday life to your advantage—and who knows not—a bargain price as well? There is nothing like publicity.

Advantages. IN these days of pre-occupation, and struggle for life people can ill afford to wait and waste time for getting informations re their particular subject of interest. Competition is so keen and the struggle for existence so widespread that we all want things handy and cannot afford to wait on the sweet will or convenience of others. This is a necessity. To dispense such information public should make a very liberal use of our short advertisement columns for any information they want and we assure them that such advertisements will always appear in their proper places.

DAILY WEATHER REPORT.

Summary of observations recorded at 8-30 hours on Friday, the 2nd September, 1921, giving data for the preceding 24 hours:—

The Punjab.—Skies are clear at Multan, overcast at Ambala and lightly or moderately clouded elsewhere. Day temperature is higher than usual at Delhi and Rawalpindi and at the latter station night temperature is below normal.

The United Provinces.—Jhansi reports 0.99in. of rain. Skies are moderately clouded. Humidity is in excess at Jhansi and day temperature is below normal at that station and at Allahabad.

Sind and Rajputana.—Kotah reports 0.25in. of rain. Skies are clear or lightly clouded in Sind and north-west Rajputana and are moderately clouded elsewhere. Humidity is in excess at Kotah, Jaipur and Karachi and is in defect at Jodhpur. Day temperature has become lower than usual at Kotah.

Gujarat, Kathiawar and Central India West.—Rain has been nearly general in Central India West and south Gujarat with a few falls in Kathiawar. Bhavnagar-Para reports 0.77in., Surat 0.99in., Ahmedabad 0.26in., Neemuch 1.44in. and Indore 2.87in. Skies are moderately clouded at Dwarka and Bhuj and are overcast at other stations. Humidity is in excess at Bhavnagar-Para and Ahmedabad and day temperature is lower than usual at Surat and in Central India West.

The Central Provinces.—Rainfall has been general over the division; Khandwa reports a heavy fall of 3.40in., Saugor has had 1.11in., Hoshangabad 1.11in., Akola 0.15in., Amraoti 0.49in., Nagpur 1.07in., Chanda 0.88in. and Raipur 0.12in. Skies are moderately or heavily clouded and humidity is nearly normal or in excess. Day temperature has become lower than usual at most stations.

The Konkan.—All stations report rain. Bombay has had 0.64in., Ratnagiri 0.39in., Mormugao 0.40in. and Karwar 1.17in. Skies are moderately or heavily clouded and humidity and temperature are nearly normal.

The Bombay Deccan and Hyderabad.—Malegaon reports 0.32in. of rain, Belgaum 0.18in. and Aurangabad 0.27in. Skies are moderately or heavily clouded. Humidity is in excess at Malegaon and Aurangabad and in defect at Nizamabad. Day temperature is slightly lower than usual at Aurangabad and is slightly above normal at Sholapur and in east Hyderabad.

General Remarks.—The area of low pressure over the north of the Central Provinces yesterday has extended slightly westwards and has given some heavy falls of rain in the north-west Central Provinces and Central India West and nearly general rain in the central parts of the reporting area. The monsoon is also active on the west coast. Rain has fallen nearly generally in Malabar, the Konkan, south Gujarat, Central India West and the Central Provinces and a few falls have occurred in the Bombay Deccan, Hyderabad, Kathiawar, east Rajputana, the United Provinces, south-east Madras and Mysore. Principal amounts are Mangalore 1.82in., Khandwa 3.40in., Indore 2.87in. and Neemuch 1.44in. Day temperature has become lower than usual in the central parts of the reporting area and in the south of the Peninsula.

Forecast.—Rain is likely to be nearly general in Malabar, the Konkan, Gujarat, Central India West, the Central Provinces, the west United Provinces, and east Rajputana and local in Kathiawar with a few falls in the Bombay Deccan, Hyderabad, Madras and Mysore. An increase of rain is expected in Gujarat and east Rajputana and a decrease in the Central Provinces.

India Telegraphic Summary for the 1st September, 1921:—

The disturbance in the north of the Bay is developing and the Bombay monsoon has strengthened generally. Rainfall has been nearly general in Lower Burma, the United Provinces, the Punjab hills, Central India, the Konkan, Malabar and Mysore and local in the Bay Islands, Upper Burma, Bengal, Orissa, Chota Nagpur, Gujarat, the west Central Provinces, and on the north Madras coast. A few falls have also occurred in Assam, Bihar, the Bombay Deccan and south-east Madras.

Principal amounts not already shown in the Bombay report are:—Port Blair three inches; Victoria Point, Tavoy four; Bassein, Diamond, Akyab one and a half; Darjeeling five; Saugor Island two; Burdwan, Mymensingh one and a half; Berhampore, Jalpaiguri one; Roorkee, Dehra Dun, Mussoorce three; Chakrata one; Dalhousie three-quarters; Pachmarhi two; and Mercara one.

GODREJ'S TOILET SOAPS.

Guaranteed Perfectly Pure and Free From Animal Fats

Made accordi g to the Latest practice for High Class Soaps.

Expert Opinions:—

OFFICE OF THE CHEMICAL ANALYSER TO GOVERNMENT,
Bombay, 26 September 1914.

Having made a careful and complete analysis of a cake of Toilet Soap sent to me by Mr. A. B. Godrej, I am of the opinion that it is a high grade article which satisfies to the full all tests applied to it.

It is a superfatted Soap peculiarly adapted for Toilet purposes and the oil present is entirely of vegetable origin. It is pleasent and economical in use lathers freely and contains a faint but elegant perfume. It is practically free from any uncombined alkali and thus is suitable for use on the most delicate skins.

(Sd.) W. H. DICKINSON M. B., F. I. C.
MAJOR, I. M. S.,
Chemical Analyser to Government
Bombay, 21*st August* 1914.

I have carefully analysed a sample of Soap submitted by Mr. A. B. Godrej and find it to be a carefully saponified product of purely vegetable oils containing no free alkali. The Soap lathers readily, has excellent cleansing properties and will be economical in use. It is especially to be recommended for delicate skins on account of its freedom from all harmful or irritating ingrediients.

The Soap is a credit to the skill and care of the manufacturer and in the matter of freedom from alkali and consequent harmlessness to the skin can be very favourably compared with the best English Soaps.

(Sd.) J. ROSS, M. P. S., F, R. M. S.
Analyst,

Most of the inported toilet soaps, including those sold under well-known names, are made from animal fats, derived chiefly from deceased animals, and are weighted with such useless substances as sugar, clay, soda-ash, and bran.

GODREJ'S SOAPS

are absolutely free from any adulteration and therefore last much longer than imported soaps.

ORDER ON KHILAFAT COMMITTEE PESIDENT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 1.

A message from Jhansi says that during a public meeting there at which Maulana Mohammed Fakhir, President of the U. P. Khilafat Propaganda Committee was present, the city Kotwal brought an order of the Distric tMagistrate in English and the Maulana, not knowing the English language, refused to accept the order and the Kotwal took away the papers. In the meantime, the Maulana delivered his speech. After the speech was finished, the Kotwal brought the same order with its translation. The order mentioned no section of law. The Maulana, accepting the papers, wrote he could not promise to obey it. Several speakers followed.

BOYCOTT OF FOREIGN CLOTH IN LUCKNOW.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, Sept. 1.

For the past few days local Non-Co-operators have been busy collecting foreign clothes. Last evening a procession went round the business places for the purpose. Complaints were heard of picketing and forcible taking of articles but the leaders of Non-Co-operation deny any violence on the part of their men. This evening a public meeting was held when addresses regarding Swaraj were made. There was a bonfire of foreign-made garments, witnessed by a very large crowd. Speeches were made and Pandit Jewaharlal Nehru, who alluded to Moplah riots, while condemning violence on the part of Moplahs thought the authorities were using more force than the situation required.

FOUND AT LAST A CURE FOR ASTHAMA

ASTOUNDING SUCCESS OF ASTHMADOR. "I want every asthma sufferer in India to try my treatment, entirely at my risk," is what Dr. Schiffmann (graduate from St. Louis College of Medicine) announces to all unfortunate sufferers. He also says, "No matter how violent the attack or obstinate the case, Asthmador will positively give immediate relief, usually in ten to fifteen seconds, but always within as many minutes." He knows what it has done for thousands of asthmatics, and in order to convince others, who have not yet tried his remedy, of its merits, he requests this paper to announce that he offers a liberal sample package of his Asthmador, absolutely free of charge, to all persons applying at Martin and Harris, Victoria Buildings, Parsee Bazar Street, Bombay, within the next four days. He believes that an actual test, as he thus offers, will be more convincing, and in fact the only way to overcome the natural prejudice of thousands of asthmatics who have heretofore sought relief in vain. Although most chemists and bazaars carry Asthmador in stock, the doctor fears some persons have not yet heard of it, and it is with a view to reaching these that he makes this liberal offer. Persons residing elsewhere, unable to call at these chemists, desiring to try this remedy will also be sent a free sample per post, providing they send simply their name and full address on a post card (no other writing) within the next four days. Address: Dr. R. Schiffmann's Depot, c/o Martin and Harris, Victoria Buildings, Parsee Bazar Street, Bombay.

SPLENDID RESULTS OF WORK IN AUGUST.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

POONA, Sept. 1.

The Maharashtra Congress Committee's report of work in August shows splendid results. Up to the end of August Rs. 4 lakhs and forty thousands were collected including nearly two lakhs from suburban districts of Bombay for the Tilak Swaraj fund. The Congress membership has gone up to 7,63,000, there are 6,000 charkas going on, more than 100 addresses were delivered in the last month in all the districts. Tours were undertaken by forty prominent workers, men and women, visiting even small villages. Messrs. N. C. Kelkar, Jamnadas Mehta, Vaidya, Paranjpe, Gokhale, Bhopatkar, Deo Gharpure Dastane, Lalit Ashtputre, alongwith others, delivered important addresses. Mrs. Lalit and Mrs. (Dr.) Naik are prominent lady workers. Nearly one and a half lakhs of hand-bills and wall-posters exhorting people to use Swadeshi clothes were distributed. Khadi stores are opened in district towns and important places. The Congress organisation has reached even to villages.

The Committee elected Mr. C. R. Das as President for the coming Congress.

FOR QUALITY HOUSE WIRING CONSULT ME.

During the last few weeks at least 3 persons have died of Electric Shocks due to bad wiring in houses.
Any one can fix a couple of wires and light a lamp or run a fan but to do it with "SAFETY FIRST" in view is what only well-known and well experienced firms can do.
Don't look to money only in these cases, but look to future saving on account of no leakage and absolute safety from shocks.
We wire houses properly and supply first class fittings, fans and appliances at reasonable prices.
